

Indonesia to Return to U.N., Seek U. S. Aid

Foreign Minister
Says Country Will
Reestablish Policy

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Foreign Minister Adam Malik said today the new Indonesian government will return to the United Nations and seek to improve relations with the United States. The apparent object is aid for the foundering economy.

Malik told a news conference that Indonesia's return to the United Nations would "depend on many questions." He did not elaborate.

President Sukarno defiantly announced Jan. 7, 1965, that Indonesia was walking out of the world organization because Malaysia — which Sukarno has vowed to crush — had been elected to the Security Council.

Malik, who replaced pro-Peking Foreign Minister Subandrio last month, said the new government led by Lt. Gen. Suharto would return Indonesia to its traditional foreign policy. This was taken to mean a more neutral course of action.

Poor Economy

Malik pointed to the country's near-bankrupt economy in emphasizing the need for improved foreign relations. He said in a reply to a question that relations with the United States have not always been good, but the government would do its best to improve them soon. "We will overcome difficulties existing now," he added.

The foreign minister said there would be no change in the country's attitude toward Red China, but added: "If Peking is not satisfied with our new policy, it is, of course, not our business."

He said Indonesia would continue its undeclared war with Malaysia but would "always be open for peaceful settlement." Malik told newsmen Sunday Indonesia would reduce its military confrontation with Malaysia once peace talks began.

McNamara Will Address Editors

NEW YORK (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara will address the American Society of Newspaper Editors at its May meeting in Montreal. It was announced today.

Vermont Royce, society president and editor of The Wall Street Journal, said McNamara would speak at a luncheon Wednesday, May 18.

Some 500 American editors will attend the convention, the first to be held outside the United States. Leading editors and publishers of Canadian daily newspapers will participate as special guests.

Want Antipoverty Funds

Mississippi Negroes Pitch Tents Opposite White House as Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Homeless and jobless Mississippi Negroes camped today in four tents in a park across the street from the White House to dramatize their plea for $1.3 million in antipoverty funds.

"We're going to keep this up until we receive some assurance from the President that we don't have to spend another winter in our tents in Mississippi," said Frank Smith, the group's leader.

The 90 Negroes — residents of tent cities near Greenville and Greenwood — took turns squatting and sleeping in the tents. Mostly ex-farmhands and plantation workers, they had come to Washington Thursday in hopes of speeding up requests for funds for do-it-yourself job training and home construction projects.

Prayer Vigil

Sunday they turned a march and prayer vigil into a tent-in-alongside four petunia beds on the neatly trimmed grass of Lafayette Park, a square that has become a traditional gathering place for White House protest marches and pickets.

"After the march, the people just wanted to stay here," Smith said.

Robber Gets $1,000 In Appleton Holdup

Weekend Receipts Taken From
Owens Michigan Service Station

A bearded gunman apparently wearing a nylon stocking over his face, netted about $1,000 in an armed robbery about 5.45 a.m. today at the Owens Michigan Oil Co. service station at W. Wisconsin Avenue and N. Superior Street.

George Coffey, 27, 2908 E. Wisconsin Ave., station manager, was locked in a storeroom following the holdup, and a young newspaper carrier making his morning deliveries entered the station, dropped off a paper, then left unaware that a robbery was in progress.

Coffey told Appleton police immediately after the holdup that about $600 was taken from a small floor safe in the front of the building, but later revised the loss to "$1,000 or more."

Weekend Receipts

Coffey, who has managed the station since Dec. 18, said the money represented most of his Saturday and Sunday receipts. He said his company is at least partially insured for such losses. The station manager, father of four children, said he came to work about 5.10 a.m. to do some bookwork.

About a half hour later, a man walked in the front door and told Coffey, "This is a stickup. Open the safe." Coffey said the man then took what

Emergency Midwife Becomes Grandfather

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Robert L. Akins delivered the baby which made him a grandfather Sunday.

Akins, 43, was called on to play midwife at his home in the predawn hours when his daughter's baby began to arrive before the ambulance.

The 6 pound, 6 ounce baby girl was promptly named Traci Dawn.

The new parents, Bill Tucker, 22, and his wife, Deborah, 18, had spent the night at the Akins home while Bill attended an Army reserve drill.

Lift Fine Threat

Nation's Railroads Rolling Again After Crippling 4-Day Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trains began to roll today at the end of a firemen's strike on eight railroads, and a federal judge lifted the threat of $510,000-a-day fines against the union and its leader.

At the suggestion of railroads, District Judge Alexander Holtzoff vacated an order calling on the union to show cause why the heavy penalty should not be levied.

In ending the four-day strike which partly paralyzed industry and commuter service and cost tens of millions of dollars, the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen acted under the threat of the fines for contempt of court, and under heavy pressure from President Johnson.

Nothing Tangible

The union won nothing tangible, though its president, E. Gilbert, contended collective bargaining was vindicated and that the roads were pledged not to take reprisals against strikers, or other union men who refused to cross picket lines.

Sunday night the judge had ordered the union to show cause why it should not be fined $500,000 a day and its president, Gilbert, $10,000 a day. The judge acted to increase fines he had previously imposed of $25,000 a day against the union and $2,500 a day against Gilbert, effective at noon Sunday, unless the strikers had returned to work.

The strike ended just before midnight Sunday. Francis Shea, speaking for the railroads to Judge Holtzoff today, said he was happy to inform the judge that the men are back at work and the railroads could see no reason to press the issue of an increase and "without any waiver of penalties accrued" moved to vacate the show cause order.

The order was vacated by Judge Holtzoff "without prejudice." What would be done about the smaller fines was not immediately stated.

Shea said that should there be any renewal of the strike — and he emphasized he had no reason to believe there would be — the railroads would be back in court.

Hearing Continue

It was then agreed that a hearing on extension of a temporary restraining order to enjoin the union from striking would be continued until April 27. At that time it will take the form of a hearing for a permanent injunction.

The April 27 hearings may revolve about a board of arbitration's award two years ago under which about 18,000 firemen's jobs were eliminated from diesel engines.

The union contends the railroads should discuss a formal 40 homes in a fashionable residential area were heavily damaged and nine persons were injured, none seriously.

At Least 8 Die in Florida Twisters

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Tornados slashed through at least eight Florida cities today, killing seven persons, injuring dozens more and causing massive damage.

Two stricken counties were declared disaster areas by Gov. Haydon Burns and the National Guard was sent in to help search for survivors in dozens of smashed and twisted buildings.

The seven deaths were reported in Tampa, the state's second largest city with a population of 274,000, and officials indicated there might be more.

About 30 children were hospitalized at Lakeland, some 50 miles east of Tampa, after a twister ripped the roof from a junior high school shortly after the start of classes.

Gov. Knowles Wants Delay In Water Talks

State Officials
Answer Democrats'
Pollution Charges

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Gov. Warren P. Knowles said today that a joint interstate federal water quality control conference should be held in Wisconsin.

But he added that he does not believe that such a conference should be held now.

Flanked by Prof. Gerard Rohlich of the University of Wisconsin, head of the State Water Resources Center, and Theodore Wisniewski, Director of the State Committee on Water Pollution, the governor replied to charges by leading Democrats that he has refused to allow state officials to participate in such a conference.

Holtzoff had imposed fines of $25,000 a day against the union, and $2,500 a day against Gilbert, effective at noon.

When pickets remained hours after Gilbert's noon statement that he would end the strike if no reprisals were promised, railroad attorneys went to Holtzoff's home and the judge ordered a conference, the govern-

Streets, Bars and Other Public Places Declared Off Limits to Americans

SAIGON (AP) — Rioting broke out in Saigon tonight as Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime wrestled with a rising rebellion on its doorstep and in the northern city of Da Nang. The U.S. Military Command declared the capital's streets, bars and public places off limits to off-duty American personnel.

Government police with tear gas and clubs broke up about 500 teen-age demonstrators at the old National Assembly building in the Tu Do but the youths then surged toward the Saigon River in the direction of the U.S. embassy.

Another 1,000 demonstrators struck out from the Buddhist Institute, but police beat them back with tear gas and club charges.

Worst Rioting

The rioting was the worst to hit Saigon in current crisis that threatens the life of Ky's nine-month-old government.

Police cordoned off the U.S. Information Service building, one block from the National Assembly. Tear gas floated in clouds over streets used by the demonstrators to reach the heart of town. The demonstrators appeared to be in the 11 to 15 age bracket.

Demonstrators overturned an American military jeep and set fire to it. None of the occupants were hurt.

The U.S. command declared Saigon off limits round-the-clock to military men shortly before the demonstrators broke out tonight.

Forces Mobilized

In a nationwide broadcast, chief of state Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu appealed once more for an end to the wave of demonstrations and violence. He also announced that all schools would be closed for an indefinite period beginning Tuesday. Ky mobilized planes and paratroopers to end what he called

Authorities said the calls were two of many which had plagued police, the family and their attorney as they seek return of Daniel, 18.

The youth was taken at gunpoint in predawn darkness a week ago from his parents' home and driven away in his own car, found abandoned later that day.

Major Space Step

Soviets Report Luna In Successful Orbit

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government told the Communist party congress today that Luna 10 has gone into orbit around the moon, marking a major step toward a manned landing.

The announced Soviet feat chalks up a key victory over the United States, which still has to match the soft moon landing achieved by the Soviet's Luna 9 on Feb. 3. The American lunar program is not scheduled to begin launching rockets to orbit the moon until late this year.

The announcement that Luna 10 had become the first artificial moon satellite was read before delegates to the 23rd party congress gathered in the Kremlin.

There was no indication, however, of what data was being received. Nor was there any suggestion that photographs of the moon's surface would be sent back.

When Jesus Was Taken before Pilate for sentencing, an ancient non-Biblical document records that only one person, an elderly Rabbi, Nicodemus, spoke out that Jesus should be spared.

Defenders of the Condemned

Jewish Scholar Defended Christ Before Pilate—and Paid the Price

EDITOR'S NOTE: Strangely, the only voices raised in support of Christ in the period of His condemnation and execution came not from His closest allies, but from those outside His following. This, first of five Easter articles about those dissenting outsiders and iconoclasts, concerns a Jewish scholar who defended Christ in His time of crisis, when his usual advocates failed Him.

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

THE WIND is against you, old man. Why fight it? Give in. Be sensible and heed the ruling pressure of the day. It's politic. It is approved. It bears the sanction of the crowd and crown, of Caesar's power and majesty.

And yet you bridle at this course! What ails thee, Nicodemus, great old rabbi, learned teacher, sage of Israel?

How stubbornly you fret! "They drink the wine of violence!" So the prophets often warned — in vain. Be realistic. It is fruitless to object. The thing is set, the order sealed and duly authorized. The man will die.

"Oh God, Thy justice is turned back, and truth is fallen in the public squares."

Dangerous Ground

You tread on dangerous ground, gray-bearded one, and few will stand beside you in this hour. You realize this, full well. As a member of the Temple court, the Sanhedrin, you already have felt the lash of scorn for sympathizing with the rebel Nazarene.

Now the incriminating gale blows even stronger. And who could move against it, who resist? Even the apostles of Jesus, His closest companions, had scattered into hiding, silence and fear. One, Judas, had sold Him out, and another, Peter, disavowed Him. None of the others raised a voice in protest.

Most To Lose

In His crisis, only a strange, one can do these signs that You whose name means "conqueror" mixed handful of individuals are do unless God is with Him." stated by Scripture to have Jesus, dismissing the outward You raised a demonstrated support for Him, wonders, had said that what lone voice for justice, mercy An odd lot they were — some mattered chiefly was man's and honor It cost you, Nicodemus, old man of books, inquirer, philosopher. inner condition, that he must renounce his self-righteous pride, recognize his moral inadequacies and become dependent on God as a little child. "Truly . . ." He said, "you must be born anew."

Then he spoke even more puzzlingly of His being offered up, a light to the world, not to condemn it but save it. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son, that whosoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life."

Roman Approval

Under Rome, even the high priesthood was appointed through approval of Caesar's procurator, Pilate, and the collaboration of the Sadducean party had to follow his suppressive policies to retain their posts. Two months ago, Jesus had been ordered eliminated as an incendiary, fomenting unrest.

When the decision was put before the Sanhedrin, meeting in the Chamber of Hewn Stone adjoining Pilate's apartments at the Fortress Antonia, Nicodemus had protested against prejudging the man, without deliberation or evidence.

Other Pharisees on the council, including the venerable Gamaliel and Joseph of Arimathea, also were tolerantly disposed toward the nonconformist Jesus, but only Nicodemus is recorded as having dared to declare his dissent openly, there in that atmosphere of distrust, foreign oppression and subversion.

Before Pilate

Finally, Jesus was taken before Pilate for sentencing. An ancient non-Biblical document, called variously the Gospel of Nicodemus or Memorials of Pilate, dating back to the first three centuries of Christianity, says the erudite old Nicodemus visited Pilate and begged him to spare Jesus.

It was useless.

The gospels record that Nicodemus helped bury Jesus. Other ancient manuscripts relate that he was deprived of office, banished from Jerusalem, baptized by Peter and John, and later buried in a common grave with Gamaliel and the first Christian martyr, Stephen.

Fought Back

You could have kept silent, Nicodemus. You could have simply accepted the dominant current of the time. It would have been more practical to comply, to hold your tongue, when the world's wind blows strong.

Fellow Teacher

Nicodemus had addressed the Nazarene as a fellow teacher. "Rabbi, we know that You are a teacher come from God, for no Nicodemus, venerable Pharisee, can do these signs that You whose name means 'conqueror' of the people 'You fought back stated by Scripture to have Jesus, dismissing the outward You raised a demonstrated support for Him, wonders, had said that what lone voice for justice, mercy An odd lot they were — some mattered chiefly was man's and honor It cost you, Nicodemus, old man of books, inquirer, philosopher. Violation of Franking Law Being Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department is reportedly inquiring into the use by a private organization of the franking privilege of Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., in a fight against the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

The department is inquiring into possible violation of the United States code which specifically prohibits the lending of a congressional frank to persons or groups not connected with Congress.

Ed Wimmer, who directs an organization called Forward America, Inc., said in Livingston, Ky., that he mailed more than 100,000 envelopes mostly to Pennsylvanians under O'Konski's frank.

Wimmer said the mailing was made for the National Federation of Independent Business, whose public relations are handled by Forward America.

The envelopes allegedly contained a statement by O'Konski praising Milton J. Shapp, an independent candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in Pennsylvania, and a speech by Rep. George M. Rhodes, D-Pa., praising Shapp for his opposition to the railroads' proposed merger.

A Post Office spokesman said that if the department felt there was a valid basis to charge a violation it would ask that the postage be paid.

O'Konski said he never gave permission to insert Rhodes' speech in his envelopes.

"It's too bad it happened," O'Konski said. "It won't happen again."

As in the past, the department also portrayed the deal as helping to keep stability in the arms race in the Middle East in view of "massive Soviet sales" of weapons there.

How President Gets Votes for Favored Bills

No Possibilities Overlooked in Fight To Pass Rent Subsidy

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Given a gloomy diagnosis by his staff that his rent supplement scheme faced another setback in the House, President Johnson ordered a high pressure lobbying operation not seen on Capitol Hill in many a day. Federal subsidies to help low-income families pay their rents squeaked through, even though, like some other Great Society proposals, it simply was not liked in the House. The extraordinary steps taken by the President and his legislative leaders to avoid defeat March 22 are worth listing in detail. House Democratic leaders held off the vote until 6 42 p.m. A few minutes before the roll was called, two administration stalwarts flying back from California were rushed into town from Dulles Airport to the House chamber. Reps John E. Moss and B. F. Sisk made it in time.

Some Of The Efforts

At 10 30 Tuesday morning, Rep Joseph P. Addabbo, a Democrat from New York, was finally persuaded by House Speaker John McCormack to vote for Mr. Johnson that evening. "It's a tough vote for you," McCormack said, "but we've been through a lot of battles together."

Presidential assistant Jack Valenti put in an emergency call to Mrs. Albert Thomas of Houston, Texas, just elected to Congress to replace her late husband. Could she come to Washington a day ahead and vote for rent supplements?

Mrs. Thomas couldn't, but the effort was just one small part of a massive flexing of Great Society muscle.

As the roll was called, House Democratic whips sidled quietly over to four Congressmen — including one Republican, Rep Silvio Conte of Massachusetts — and pleaded with them to withdraw their votes against rent supplements and "pair off" with absent members who were for it.

One of the four, Rep. John Kluczynski of Illinois, did better. He switched his vote from against the President to for the President. The other three agreed to pair, subtracting their votes from Mr. Johnson's opposition.

8-Vote Margin

But even this was not enough. The vote had been scheduled for a day on which all five Democrats from South Carolina would be attending the governor's dinner in Columbia, S.C. That saved five votes.

Add it up, and Mr. Johnson won by a vote of 198 to 190, close enough to put a touch of gray on the shrewd head of Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, the President's chief lobbyist.

Behind that razor-edge margin lies this little noticed fact about the Great Society: from here on out, major Johnson bills are, like rent supplements, new departures, and in some cases radical new departures. Here are no longer old familiar like federal aid to education and Medicare which cooked for years on the Congressional stove.

The Great Society bills now coming up are being approached by Congress with extreme caution. For example, the odds today on the President's "demonstration cities" program are far less than 50-50. This bill is a major part of the Great Society's effort to start rebuilding 60 cities, improve their substandard housing, disperse the ghettos, and help them build up social services.

Rebuild Sections

With a planned federal expenditure of $2.3 billion over five years, the bill offers the 60 cities a major inducement in the form of federal aid to rebuild whole sections if they come up with a coordinated plan of renewal, housing, schools, and health services.

Although this bill is based on expansion of existing Federal subsidies, such as funds for urban renewal, it is still a bold new departure.

To give it a fighting chance, three Democrats on the House Banking Committee — Reps. Thomas Ashley of Ohio, William Moorehead of Pennsylvania, and Henry Reuss of Wisconsin — have redrafted the main section of the bill to add at least 20 more cities to the limited

To Your Good Health

Lead Poisoning Can be Caused by Gasoline

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. When not recognized, it can be fatal. Dear Dr. Molner: What are the symptoms of lead poisoning? Can it result from cleaning auto parts with gasoline? I wonder if my 16-year-old son could have gotten it when he became quite sick, especially with headaches, lost weight and looked pale.

What organ does lead poisoning affect? Does one get anemia from it?—G.J.F.

Lead poisoning can be caused by breathing the fumes of or of handling gasoline which contains tetra-ethyl lead.

There are different degrees of lead poisoning, but your son's headaches and pallor are among the usual symptoms. Others are loss of appetite, nausea and neuritis. A typical sign is a bluish-gray discoloration at the junction of the gums and teeth.

Since the lead is absorbed into the blood stream, virtually all organs can be affected to some degree, and red blood cells can be damaged, causing anemia. If your son continues tinkering with his car, as no doubt he will at that age, he should work only in a well-ventilated place, and he should use some solvent other than leaded (ethyl) gasoline for cleaning purposes. White gasoline or kerosene would be better.

Dear Dr. Molner: Your booklet on mononucleosis was a tremendous help in explaining the sickness to our 16-year-old son. He was taken to the hospital a month ago. It was a frightening experience. He is home now and recovering nicely.

Auxiliary Serves Delightful Palm Sunday Fare

For the second year St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary initiated the spring season with a delightful brunch at Butte des Morts Golf Club. This year's program, held Sunday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., included an art exhibit of works done by members of the religious life, and was held in the newly built portion of BDM.

Showing their artistic endeavors at the event were the Rev. Thomas Golden, formerly of Sacred Heart Parish and now of St. John, Green Bay; Sister Mariella of Xavier High School; the Rev. Dean Marek, Racine; the Rev. John Lutz, St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Milwaukee; and the Rev. Raymond Lenahan, Beloit.

Mrs. John Oberweiser served as co-chairman for the St. Elizabeth Auxiliary.

Scrambled eggs, chicken livers, ham, bacon, crepes suzette and a variety of fresh fruits were on the buffet table for guests at the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary spring brunch. Above, their choice from the breakfast bounty, are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Manderfeld. Mrs. Arthur Ellenbecker is serving. At right, lingering over coffee, are Miss Margaret Sauer, Miss Louise Faust and Miss Geneva Klein, all of Menasha. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Two of the Artists were there to greet St. Elizabeth Auxiliary Brunch and Art Show guests at Butte des Morts Golf Sunday. Above, the Rev. Thomas Golden and Sister Mariella chat with Mrs. Bea Masiak and James Lang at the noon hour program, the second presented by the Auxiliary. At right, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jandrin look at one of the landscapes shown at the event. Below, the work done by the Rev. Dean Marek in the design of vestments is examined by Mr. and Mrs. John Lindberg and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kiloren.

Any brand of perfume has a standard fragrance in the vial. But once applied, it reacts with the skin to become as personal and distinctive as its wearer's handwriting. So, be certain you have first "applied" plenty of soapsuds and rinse water. When daubed on unclean skin, perfume can react unfavorably to grime and soil so that its aroma is dissipated. On the other hand, when skin is freshly washed and immaculately clean, the effect of fragrance is heightened to express the wearer's true individuality.

Mrs. Johnson Rides Raft, Hikes in Big Bend Park

BY FRANCES LEWINE
PANTHER JUNCTION, Tex. (AP) — Sunkanned from a Rio Grande raft ride, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson ended a weekend in the Big Bend country today expressing delight at its spectacular wilderness grandeur.

The Palm Sunday raft ride was the highlight of the visit. It took up most of the day — after a flapjack outdoor breakfast and a 5-minute special Palm Sunday church service conducted by the park chaplain, just for the White House travelers. The President's wife went Western in blue jeans, checkered shirts and sneakers amid the rugged peaks of the Chisos (ghost) Mountains on the Texas-Mexican border.

Everything from the dramatic lighting effects to the tenacity of life here — "things growing in a cupful of soil" — intrigued her.

Though she brought along a press party of 70, Mrs. Johnson was struck mainly by the vast solitude and how quickly "you are able to get this completely out into the wilderness."

Her stay in the 708,000-acre Big Bend National Park was rugged and colorful fun.

The 53-year-old First Lady took in gay stride a mile and a half hike up Lost Mine Trail. She sang along at a moonlight campfire and listened to the tales of the Old West.

She was unperturbed by a sudden dust storm that climaxed a riverside steak fry. She even helped paddle and dangled her feet in the cold water on an 11-mile Rio Grande float trip in a big yellow life raft through Mariscal Canyon, with its towering limestone cliffs 1,500 feet high.

Hours in Raft
The First Lady led a flotilla of 24 rafts on a 5½ hour ride, skirting rocks, splashing rapids and maneuvering tricky turns.

Park rangers were the guides, jumping into the water to get the life rafts over the tough spots. Everybody helped with the paddling, including Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Stewart Udall, the traveling White House doctor, Navy Capt. James Young, and Secret Service agents. Mrs. Johnson took a turn for 25 minutes.

There were frequent doublings from river water. A few had unexpected spills into the river.

But no one minded these cooling applications in the 90-degree heat, with no place to hide from the sweltering sun. Mrs. Johnson kept applying protective layers of suntan lotion.

Afterwards, she told reporters she was reminded how very pleasant simple things can be — a vagrant breeze, a drink of water on an 11-mile Rio Grande float trip in a big yellow life raft have enough strength to cope with paddling a canoe — to get out in the open and to come to terms with things.

Part of Getting ready for a Miss Wisconsin Pageant is selecting the clothes to be worn during that week. Miss Barbara Silwanowicz, Miss Appleton, is beginning to look for the gowns and frocks she'll take to the state contest in Oshkosh in July. At right, she ponders a summer knit. Below, Jack Burroughs, director of the Miss Appleton Pageant, and her chaperon, Mrs. Eugene Paulsen, lend their advice during a recent shopping trip. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Bad Start Can Ruin Entire Day

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Some days are bad. You get hung up on your first appointment and then run ten minutes late for the rest of the day. Nor does it end there. At night you try to relax at the bridge table, and get a hand like the one shown here.

You win the first trick in dummy with the king of clubs and lead a diamond, losing the king to the ace. Back comes a club to the ace, and you lead the king of hearts to East's ace.

Yes, you're a couple of tricks late with that heart trick, but some days it goes like that. Anyway, East returns a club, and you ruff.

In the hope of reaching dummy you lead the jack of spades. West discards a diamond, and East shrewdly refuses the trick. You take the queen of diamonds and ruff a diamond with dummy's nine.

East over-ruffs and returns a trump. Eventually you must lose another diamond, and you are down one.

Wrong Start

You started badly, of course. You should lead the king of hearts at the second trick while you still have a sure club entry to dummy. East takes the ace of hearts, but then his club return puts you in dummy to discard a diamond on the queen of hearts.

Now you can lead diamonds, losing the king to West's ace. West returns a club, and you ruff. You cash the queen of diamonds and ruff your last diamond with dummy's nine of spades. East can take his queen of spades then or later, but nothing can touch the contract.

It's just a matter of getting started on the right foot, but sometimes you're out of step all day.

Your Problems

Ann Barraged With Letters About Value of Housewives

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: As if my wife and I don't have enough arguments about how much work she does and how little she gets in return, you had to print that letter from some nutty home economics teacher who figures out that the average housewife is worth $8,000 a year on today's labor market. I'm willing to bet that ours was only one of a million fights you caused across the nation.

Has it ever occurred to you that for $8,000 a year a man could live in a beautiful apartment with maid service and not have to put up with a nagging broad, not to mention her miserable mother?

The American housewife has been glorified to the point where she thinks she's right up there with the vice president of General Motors. You make less sense all the time. I think you're getting rocks in your head, Granny. — No Fan of Yours

Dear Ann Landers: How do you know what my wife is worth as a housekeeper? Have you ever been inside our home?

I'd invite you over for a look but I don't think you could get through the front door. Junk is piled to the ceiling—unopened barrels and crates she hasn't gotten to yet. (We moved into this place last November.) The Christmas tree is still up. She says she'll take it down when she has a free afternoon.

I can't say much about my wife's cooking because she hasn't cooked a meal in so long I can't remember it. The last time she did the laundry was in 1956 when she washed my wallet which was in the pocket of my work pants. The wallet contained my pay check and every important card and piece of paper I owned.

You may know a lot, Ann

Landers, but you don't know what goes on in our house. So

Landers

please don't try to tell a man what his wife is worth unless you have met her—Up to Here

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It's about time you came through for us women for a change. I have been reading your column for years and you are so prejudiced in favor of men that I am sure those pictures that run with your column are phony and that you are really a man yourself.

That estimate of $8,000 was low. I perform all the duties mentioned in the teacher's letter plus the following: I hang wallpaper, repair furniture, serve as my husband's barber, psychiatrist, and financial adviser. I interpret his dreams and read his horoscope. I referee the fights he has with his relatives. But the money is only part of it. Most men have such lousy dispositions they couldn't hire help to stay with them. Marriage is the only answer.—Swampfire

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read where some so-called authority has decided a housewife is worth $150 a week. I am a married man who earns only $135 a week. This means I cannot afford to keep this wonderful woman who sleeps until noon and has scorched every shirt I have ever owned. Thank you for making me realize that I don't deserve her. I'm kicking her out tomorrow.—Stanley Greatheart

40 m.p.h. Limit Set on Strip In Grand Chute

Road Commission To Place Signs on State 125 Portion

A 40-mile per hour speed limit has been imposed on the W. College Avenue commercial and industrial area known as the "strip" in the Town of Grand Chute.

The announcement was made today through the district office of the Wisconsin State Highway Commission at Green Bay.

Previously, the speed limit on the avenue—from the viaduct west to U.S. 41—was 50 miles per hour.

Joseph T. Borchers, district maintenance engineer for the highway commission, said the 40 m.p.h. limit would go into effect as soon as signs are erected along the avenue, which is State 125.

County Patrol
"Since no speed limit can wholly be effective without proper enforcement, we respectfully request your cooperation in securing adequate patrol at the speed zone location," Borchers wrote Clarence Brownson, Outagamie County highway commissioner. A copy of the letter was also sent Sheriff Calvin Spice.

Because the "strip" is outside the city limits, it is presumed it will be patrolled by county police.

The Town of Grand Chute has no police patrol as such.

Traffic lights have been approved by the state for the College Avenue-Bluemound Road intersection.

At a recent meeting in Appleton, one state highway commission official predicted it was "just a matter of time" before all of College Avenue becomes four lane from U.S. 41 east to the city limits.

Kellett to Speak At Third Annual Progress Forum

Wisconsin's top government, political, business, civic and education leaders will participate in the third annual Forum for Progress at the Milwaukee War Memorial Center on April 21.

The forum will be concerned with the topics of industrial development, governmental economy and education. The principal addresses will be made by Gov. Warren Knowles; William R. Kellett, retired president of Kimberly-Clark Corp.; Neenah, who headed the so-called Kellett Committee on improved expenditure management in Wisconsin state government; and Angus B. Rothwell, the state superintendent of public instruction who will on July 1 become the first director of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

Members of the successive discussion panels will include Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey; Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette; Assembly Speaker Robert T. Huber; Assembly Majority Leader Frank L. Nikolay (D-Abbottford); State Sen. Jerris Leonard (R-Bayside); Assemblyman J. Curtis McKay (R-Cedarburg); George C. Kaiser, commissioner of the department of administration; Harold B. Groh, president of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. and chairman of the governor's board of economic development.

Abbott Byfield, Neenah, chairman of the task group for the Kellett committee, will be a member of the permanent "discussants" who will participate in all the panel sessions.

WHBY-Radio will broadcast the election returns Tuesday evening beginning at 8 p.m. A staff of eight will coordinate the returns.

Sigman Relieved In Cornelius Case

Judge Takes Action After Youth Voices Displeasure With Attorney

Appleton attorney Samuel Sigman this morning was formally relieved as court-appointed counsel for Richard Allen Cornelius, 20-year-old Milwaukee youth charged with three counts of arson and one of criminal trespass in connection with three Town of Oneida fires early Oct. 31.

County Judge Urban P. Van Susteren, on a request by Sigman, relieved the attorney shortly after a list of 36 potential jurors was drawn to hear the case which starts at 9 a.m. Monday.

Judge Van Susteren, who March 15 entered innocent pleas for Cornelius who said he was "in no position to plead," reminded the former West DePere youth this morning that he would not get another court-appointed attorney.

Third Attorney
Sigman was the third attorney named to the case. Two other attorneys withdrew following objections by Cornelius. As it appears today, Cornelius will go to court Monday without counsel, unless he is able to retain an

Plan Commission Denies Rezoning For Quaker Dairy

Firm Had Plans for New $40,000 Store on Appleton's Southside

Plans for a new $40,000 Quaker Dairy store on Appleton's southside received a setback today when the city plan commission voted down a rezoning request.

Ben Cherkasky, representing Valley Realty Co., had asked the lot on the southeast corner of Lincoln and Madison Streets be rezoned from two-family to local business.

Cherkasky wanted the property rezoned so he could tear down the existing dairy store and another old building on the property, to make way for the new facility — complete with paved parking area.

Ald. Paul Klemmer (11th) told the commission the rezoning request should be denied because the people in the neighborhood were against it.

Voice Opposition
Several residents attended this morning's public hearing and voiced opposition to construction of a new store and expansion of the business.

In addition, petitions with more than 70 signatures were filed with the commission urging that it deny the rezoning request.

A lengthy letter, written by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lloyd, 420 E. Lincoln St., objecting to the rezoning also was read.

Objectors said the property represented an eyesore in the neighborhood. They complained of rats, paper and broken glass in the area which they attributed to the fact there was a

State to Provide Special Help for Problem Drivers

Help is here for Wisconsin's problem drivers.

Notices to meet with special motor vehicle department counselors are now in the mails to the first groups of problem drivers who have been promoted from the ranks of the state driver license examiner staff and trained in driver counseling. The area men are: David F. Trousil of Mishicot and Myron J. (Mike) Krueger, 407 Wilson St., Little Chute, in District 6 with headquarters at Green Bay and Appleton, respectively. Krueger has been with the traffic department seven years.

The driver improvement analysts, all veteran driver license examiners, received five weeks of intensive training in group and individual counseling and other facts of driver improvement before being assigned to their district duty stations.

Nick Retson Finds Governor's Chair Difficult Seat to Fill

A thrilled young man who discovered that the governor's chair "is a mighty big seat to fill" returned Saturday evening from the ninth annual YMCA Model Legislature at Madison.

Site Acquisition Committee To Ponder Proposed Swap

Plans Group Refers Request of Power Company for More Study

Proposed land trades with the city by the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. were referred to a special site acquisition committee today by the Appleton Plan Commission.

The power company and city are interested for future projects. Wisconsin Michigan already purchased a site from the city in the industrial park, which had previously been earmarked as the location for a new municipal garage, and contemplates a major expansion program.

Long-Range Projects
And the city is interested in some utility-owned property to tie in with present and long-range public works projects to be carried out between now and 1985 in the new comprehensive plan.

The power company recently had appraisals made of the property it wishes to exchange with the city. And, city officials have contracted to have additional appraisals made for negotiation purposes.

The commission also: —Tabled action on the request of a developer to change the multiple family category to permit construction of high-rise apartments in the 13th Ward.

—Heard Mayor Clarence Mitchell suggest the city attorney attend commission meeting on April 26.

New Generation of Computers Puts AAL in 2nd Data Processing Stage

Aid Association for Lutherans plans to go into its second phase of electronic data processing to take advantage of a new generation of computers.

AAL President, Walter L. Rugland announced today that AAL has adopted a plan to utilize a large-scale IBM System-360 by January, 1969.

In describing the change, Wilmer C. Stach, vice president and director of planning and systems, said the System-360 eventually will replace the IBM 7070-1401 computer system in operation since 1963. Conversion to the more sophisticated data processing system will be done in two phases, with the first scheduled for completion by January, 1969.

"We could expand our present equipment to serve our needs for another few years," Stach explained, "but rapidly changing computer technology has system at any time. Once a produced more flexible and efficient computers which are reflected in answers given to ment will provide AAL with the most modern tools available to time."

Provides Flexibility
This is called "real time" processing, as opposed to the present method of "batch processing," where all transactions are processed once each day. It provides flexibility because operating units no longer would be regulated by date processing schedules.

Access to specific records can be restricted. Confidential and non-confidential files can be located in the same storage unit without sacrificing file security.

The information system will include two basic types of communications terminals: typewriter and visual display (television screen). Terminals can be located in the appropriate offices and it is conceivable that they will be extended later to offices in the field. Stach said, to provide a compatible (a change of model direct link with the system.

Greater Capacity
The System-360 will give AAL the processing capacity for two million certificates and facilities to implement an information system which will, in effect, provide "instant information" on many insurance business transactions. It will be relatively simple to expand the system to meet 10 times AAL's present data processing needs.

Nick says he has always had an interest in politics and plans to major in political science at Lawrence University next fall, less space. It encompasses a major bill for programming package designed especially for life insurance operations which will reduce the cost of life insurance by 70 per cent. It is conceivable that they will be making rounds to investigate and study bills, writing the official governor's communications.

Less Participation in 9-County Surplus Commodity Program

March Figure Down as Persons Begin Return to Seasonal Jobs

NEW LONDON — Participation in the surplus commodities program in a nine-county area dropped sharply during March, according to figures obtained from United Counties Distributors, handlers of the program for the county welfare departments.

UCD showed that 10,684 persons participated in the program during February, but during March a decrease of 415 persons was noted. Poundsage dropped from 152,061 to 148,825 in the period.

Returning to seasonal jobs is one reason for the decrease in participation.

All but two counties showed a downward trend. Portage County showed a modest increase with poundsage going up by 437 pounds to 15,839 and participation increasing by 22 persons to 1,108. Marathon County participation rose by 29 persons to 1,902 and commodities increased by 1,439 pounds to 29,741.

Outagamie Total

Outagamie County showed the sharpest dip in participation as there was a drop of 161 participants to 1,594 for the month. Poundsage slipped to 19,280 from a February total of 20,486. Winnebago County noted minor decreases as poundsage decreased from 16,037 to 15,848 and participation by 80 persons to 1,149.

Waupaca County participation in the program dropped from 949 to 886, but surplus foods showed an increase of 75 pounds to 12,809. Fond du Lac County had 924 residents receive 13,449 pounds of commodities, compared with 1,032 persons and 14,377 pounds in February.

Oconto poundsage dropped by 1,434 pounds to 16,555 and participation decreased by 17 to 1,042. Shawano County distributed 17,808 pounds of commodities to 1,147 persons during March compared with February's total of 19,192 pounds and 1,178 persons.

Decrease in Participation

Waushara County had 517 persons, down from 523 in February, receive 7,498 pounds of commodities, off 44 pounds.

The April schedule:

April 11—Oshkosh, northside, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Blue Chips Get Market in Gear

Shares Rally in Heavy Trading for Solid Advances

NEW YORK (AP) — Blue chips and glamor stocks got in gear as the stock market rallied early this afternoon in heavy trading which seemed heading for a ten-million-share session.

Institutional buying of blue chips like American Telephone—recently battered down to a monotonous series of four-year lows—combined with lively trading in high-flyers to produce a solid advance.

The market surged ahead for an hour and then encountered some profit taking but still remained substantially higher.

The ending of the nationwide rail strike, inflationary expectations and plans to reduce capital spending by additional companies helped form the Wall Street backdrop.

Hotly-Contested Races Expected To Draw 16,000 Appleton Voters

An estimated 16,000 or more Cornelius Crowe as his opposition to the election of Supreme Court Justice Thomas E. Fairchild to a second 10-year term was one reason the number of voters would be so low.

If experience is any standard, the three proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot have only about a 50-50 chance of adoption. In the past 10 years, 19 proposed amendments have been voted on in spring elections and nine of them have been rejected.

The three proposals to be decided Tuesday are generally considered non-controversial, and are intended to correct or modernize parts of Wisconsin's 118-year old Constitution.

Invested Funds in Kaukauna Return Above Estimate

KAUKAUNA — Ald. Gilbert Anderson, chairman of the finance committee, announced Saturday, investment of $775,000 of city funds in United States treasury bills has resulted in receipts of $18,000 for the city, or $8,000 above the anticipated budget figure of $10,000 for 1966.

Plans call for the investment of another $400,000 in treasury bills April 8. The $500,000 from a recent bond issue to finance construction of the sewage disposal plant has also been invested, realizing $19,000 return, or $2,000 more than the $17,000 interest due on the bond issue.

Interest realized by investments helps reduce the tax rate for taxpayers, noted Anderson. Invested funds return sufficient money to pay the salaries of one or more city workers or can be utilized to purchase needed equipment, said Anderson.

Passover Foods Passover foods include the matzoh, unleavened bread to recall that baked in haste as the Israelites left Egypt; bitter herbs as a reminder of hardships under Pharaoh's oppression; a sprig of parsley as a reminder that Passover is also a festival of spring; a roasted shank bone as an emblem of the paschal lamb, and the haroses, a mixture of apples, nuts, raisins, cinnamon and went to symbolize the mortar used in Egyptian pyramids.

Productive Week Full of Funds, Food Expected in House

Additional Appropriations, Pay Raises, Aid to India on Docket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House started today what may be one of its busiest and most productive weeks of the year.

Most of the action will deal with pay raises for government employees, food for India's hungry masses, and more than $8.3 billion in appropriations for the Treasury, Post Office and Interior Departments.

Congress plans to quit after Thursday's session for the Easter break, with return scheduled for April 18.

The Senate's only business this week will be consideration Tuesday of a resolution to veto President Johnson's plan to shift the Community Relations Service from the Commerce Department to the Justice Department. Unless Congress votes down the shift, it will go into effect April 11.

Consider Raises
The Senate does not meet today, but the House considers a bill to give federal civilian and postal employees a pay raise and fringe benefits of about 3.2 percent.

After that, the House will take up a bill to sell or give to India surplus food, including 3.5 million tons of feed grains. Although the President already has authority to make the transaction, Congress was asked to reaffirm it.

The pay raise and food-for-India bills are certain of House passage, although an informal understanding forbidding roll-call votes until Wednesday may delay approval until then.

Seventeen other bills, all of them relatively minor, are on today's House docket.

Tuesday the House will tackle a bill appropriating $1.1 billion to finance the Interior Department for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Treasury Post Office
It will follow Wednesday with the annual Treasury and Post Office appropriation bills. The President has requested more than $7 billion for the departments.

The two appropriation measures may give budget-conscious advocates of cutting nondefense programs a chance to renew their battle. They failed last week to slash the $2.5-billion appropriation bill the House has sent to the Senate. The bill included funds to start the new rent subsidy and Teachers Corps programs.

One major measure cleared Congress last week, providing that in 1967 daylight-saving time shall be uniform throughout the different time zones. For this year the bill requires only that any time change must begin April 24 and end Oct. 30.

Mother, Two Children Die in Chicago Fire
CHICAGO (AP) — A mother and two of her children have been killed in a fire that swept a South Side apartment building.

Fifteen persons injured in the fire Sunday were taken to four nearby hospitals.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Sylvester Holmes, 27; a daughter, Benny Jane Holmes, 8; and a son, Sylvester Holmes Jr., 18 months.

Another daughter, Betty Jane Holmes, 5, was in critical condition in Billings Memorial Hospital.

The cause of the fire in the six-flat building was not immediately determined. Chief Fire Marshal Curtis Volkamer said the blaze started on a second-floor wooden rear porch. Volkamer estimated the damage at $20,000.

Battalion Chief Andrew Schubert said that when his men arrived at the fire "the smoke was so thick we could hardly see the building. People were hanging out of every window."

Many of the building's residents were helped to safety down ladders.

200,000 Persons Idled $5 Million Daily Lost by Railroads During 4-Day Strike of Brotherhood

CHICAGO (AP) — The four-day strike against eight major railroads put more than 200,000 persons out of work or on part-time duty in 38 states, the carriers report they lost an estimated $5 million daily and the striking firemen lost $320,000 a day in wages.

The strike by about 8,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers began Thursday, delaying mail and stalling food and agricultural shipments in rail yards and sidings. It affected industry, transportation to and from work and shipment of freight before being called off Sunday night.

The auto industry was the hardest hit, but the strike ended before the worst came.

The Union Pacific Railroad, one of the struck carriers, estimated that 29,000 employees over its system were idled with loss of wages running at $744,000 a day and loss of $1.5 million a day in revenue.

Commuter Service
In Chicago, the Illinois Central said it would have commuter trains running for its 32,500 passengers on schedule today and that its operations should be in full swing by noon.

The IC had its first commuter train moving less than two hours after the agreement was signed. The IC's 6,500 miles of track runs through more than 1,500 communities in 14 states.

The Pennsylvania Railroad said pickets were withdrawn from the Penn Station in Pittsburgh late Sunday night and that freight schedules would be returned to normal by tonight.

A spokesman said the first passenger train would move out by afternoon.

A Grand Trunk Western spokesman said all pickets went off at midnight, but that it would take a full week to get back to normal. He said commuter service from Chicago to Detroit would begin Tuesday.

Four States
The Grand Trunk estimates its daily loss at $200,000. Not a train moved in four states served by the road.

The Seaboard Air Line said it hoped to be in full operation by the end of the day. The railroad suspended all passenger service for the duration of the strike, but about 20 freights continued to operate Sunday over the 4,100-mile system.

Seaboard said the strike cost it an estimated $500,000 a day as it was struck by 300 firemen.

After agreement was reached in St. Louis Sunday night, the Missouri Pacific called for immediate removal of pickets and said it should be in full operation by midmorning.

The strike jammed up industry and many companies were preparing massive layoffs and slowdowns today if the strike continued.

Potato Workers
Eastern Idaho potato spokesmen say they were hard hit by the strike and that plants in Idaho and Utah were planning to lay off employees. A Pocatello plant planned to lay off all its 450 employees if no settlement had been reached by today.

Some 1,400 railroad workers were affected in the Los Angeles area. Freight was piled up in many places, except in East Los Angeles where supervisory personnel kept it moving.

In the South, the poultry industry was hard hit by the shutdown. The Missouri Pacific has 4,700 employees in Arkansas, with more than 2,000 of them in the Little Rock area.

The Boston & Maine Railroad, another of the struck carriers, sat silently for four days. The yards were jammed with cars. The Maine Central Railroad, which shares South Portland's Rigby Yards, stopped operating when its employees honored picket lines. The Maine Central said it lost $65,000 a day on a strike in which it wasn't involved.

Auto Companions
The automobile industry opened all of its factories on schedule, after a weekend of juggling supplies between its plants.

Thousands of auto workers had been laid off or put on short shifts because the strike cut off shipments. An estimated 60,300 General Motors workers at 17 plants in Michigan, Missouri, Ohio and Kansas were affected in some way.

The strike caused a production loss of 20,000 units at GM. The strike affected in varying degrees from 100 to 150 industries in Kansas City. The Kansas City postmaster planned to divert mail onto trucks and airplanes and said that mail was being delayed.

The postmaster said about three million Social Security checks arrived in Kansas City for distribution.

He said that even if all surface traces of an underground explosion had been removed, sensitive detectors could still pick up traces of the telltale gases.

Fisher rejected Soviet claims that an underground test ban treaty could be supervised without on-site inspections. He said that the United States even with a seismic system "more sensitive than any which has previously existed" still cannot tell whether some 45 underground disturbances a year in the Soviet Union are earth tremors or underground nuclear explosions.

Lobbying Part Of Way of Life For Russians

Novelist Sholokhov First to Acknowledge Buttonholing Tactic

MOSCOW (AP) — Now it's official — The only way to get anything in the Soviet Union is to crumple for it. And one of the best places to scrounge is in the corridors of a Communist party congress.

Nobel Prize author Mikhail Sholokhov told delegates to the 13rd congress last week that he himself had become an expert scrounger in the Moscow ministries for everything from cowshed roofs to new schools.

Right at this congress, Sholokhov said amid laughter and applause, the delegates are spending as much time as they can lobbying.

"During the breaks," he said, "you go about hawk-eyed in the corridors seeking out ministers and thinking: 'What could I get out of him?'"

Everyone has known for years that you had to know somebody to get something in this country, but this was the highest public acknowledgement of it.

By Hook or Crook
Sholokhov said that when farms in the Rostov region, where he lives, need tractors, for instance, it's necessary to send regional officials to Moscow to "get them by hook or by crook."

Then he told of his own experiences.

"I am coming to a minister," he said, and quoted his own remarks:

"Comrade minister, please let me have 3,000 sheets of slate for collective farm cow and calf sheds."

"And he replies, 'Don't you understand that we have a planned economy and under the plan you have already received everything you are entitled to?'"

"And I tell him, 'I understand, but the cows, let alone the calves, do not understand why they must get wet in the rain in the autumn and be cold in winter. Roofing slate is not a matter of fashion or beauty, but an economic necessity.'"

Sholokhov didn't say just what he was lobbying for at this congress.

Buildings Smoke After Spectacular Blaze in Madison

MADISON (AP) — The ruins of two Madison buildings were still smoldering Sunday after a spectacular blaze late Saturday night.

Firemen used a bulldozer and water to complete their job that began about 9 p.m. Saturday when fire started in the warehouse section of the Tilsen Roofing Co., a one-story structure occupying about 12,000 square feet of space. The building was destroyed. The Heifetz Scrap Metal Co. next to the roofing firm was heavily damaged.

More than 100 firemen fought the fire but there were no injuries.

Death of Russel Crouse Ends Brilliant Career, Topflight Partnership

NEW YORK (AP) — Russel Crouse always was in the theater on opening night to send telegrams on the progress of their show to his writing partner, Howard Lindsay, at home.

The telegrams, filled with wit, often would come at 15-minute intervals to cheer up Lindsay, who feared watching the reaction of the first-night audience.

The telegrams mostly brought word of a box-office success because Lindsay and Crouse were Broadway's most famous show-writing team for 32 years.

Their partnership ended Sunday with the death of Crouse. He was 73. He died in St. Luke's Hospital of pneumonia and complications.

Life with Father
The one exception to Crouse's telegrams was "Life With Father," because Lindsay played the lead role of the father. Lindsay's wife, Dorothy Stickney, was the mother.

Lindsay was traveling in the South when told of his partner's death and made plans to return to the city.

The pair brought admiration and joy to millions of theatergoers from the time they first united their writing talents in 1934 with "Anything Goes" until their last show, the 1959 hit musical "Sound of Music."

Lindsay and Crouse collaborated on 14 shows and seven of them could be classed solid hits. They won the Pulitzer Prize in 1946 for "State of the Union," but "Life With Father" must be considered their biggest success. It ran on Broadway for more than seven years.

Other top shows were "Red, Hot and Blue," in 1936, "Arsenic and Old Lace" in 1940, and "Call Me Madam" in 1950.

Born in Findlay, Ohio, Crouse was the son of a newspaper publisher. He spent several years as a reporter on newspapers in Cincinnati, Kansas City and New York. He was a press agent for the Theater Guild before becoming a playwright.

Steam Engine Offered to Circus World Museum

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A spokesman for the Joe Schlitz Brewing Co., said Sunday the Burlington railroad has offered to donate the road's last operating steam locomotive to the Circuit World Museum at Baraboo.

The spokesman for Schlitz, which is sponsor of the circus parade in Milwaukee on the Fourth of July, said the railroad previously decided to retire engine 4960 Aug. 1 after it brought the circus train to Milwaukee.

The engine is used only for special events such as pulling last year's circus train from Baraboo to Milwaukee.

C. P. Fox, director of the museum, said he expressed an interest in acquiring the engine when he learned it was being retired. He said the museum would not keep the engine in operating condition and it would be a historical display.

Apply Crayons to Warm Eggs For Interesting Easter Eggs

BY CAPPY DICK

With ordinary wax crayons a boy or girl can make an unlimited number of original and interesting designs on Easter eggs. The secret is to apply the crayons just as soon as the eggs have been removed from the water in which they have been boiled. The hot surface of the egg shell will cause the crayon to melt and it will adhere to the shell.

Remove only one egg at a time from the hot water, leaving the others there until you are ready to decorate them. It may be wise to let the water simmer to keep the eggs hot. To enable you to hold the hot egg, which is really too hot to hold in your hand make a holder from a loop of wire as the boy has done in Figure 3. Figure 1 shows such a loop. Figures 2 and 3 show some of the many designs you can apply. You do not need great artistic skill. You can make wavy lines, straight lines, dots, rosettes, plaid designs and many others. Several different colors of crayon may be used on a single egg. You can write or print your name, too, or the names of friends and relatives to whom you may wish to give the eggs.

Packers Open League Play With Colts in Milwaukee

Celtics Roll Over 76ers in Playoff

Auerbach Praises Defense After 115-96 Victory at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Even in the National Basketball Association where they score points in telephone numbers, the name of the game is defense. Both the winners and the losers agreed on that Sunday after the Boston Celtics rolled over the Philadelphia 76ers 115-96 in the first game of the best-of-seven Eastern Division Final playoffs. "We've always been a defensive ball club," said Boston Coach Red Auerbach as he savored the triumph over the team that ended the Celtics' champs. "Defense was our strong point today (Sunday)," said Auerbach, who saved his familiar victory cigar-smoking bit for the locker room. He explained that lighting the cigar in out of town games caused too much commotion by the home fans. Nothing Special "This year we've had our ups and downs on defense, but we had it in this game. It was one long time. We did nothing spe-

The Canadiens, who nailed their eighth NHL championship in the last 11 years by overpowering the Black Hawks 8-3, Saturday night, tuned up for their defense of the Stanley Cup with a 4-1 victory over New York in Sunday's regular season wind-up. Chicago played the reluctant bridesmaid again — the Hawks never have won a season title — despite Hull's sweep of the league's all-time scoring records.

Second Tilt Set for Cleveland; Rams, Lions, Vikings, Bears Will Appear at Lambeau Field

Post-Crescent News Service GREEN BAY — The Packers start their 1966 league season with a replay of "two Sundays in Tiltetown", except they won't be in Green Bay. Green Bay opens against the Colts in Milwaukee County Stadium Saturday night, Sept. 10 and then plays at Cleveland Sunday afternoon, Sept. 18. The Packers played the same two teams in their back-to-back championship battles at Lambeau Field last season, beating the Colts, 13-10, in the sudden-death playoff Dec. 26 and the Browns, 23-12 for the world title Jan. 2. The Packers will play the Rams (Sept. 25), the Lions (Oct. 2), the Vikings (Nov. 6) and the Bears (Nov. 20) in Green Bay. They meet the Colts (Sept. 10), the Falcons (Oct. 23 and the 49ers (Dec. 4) in Milwaukee. The schedule was announced jointly today by Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the NFL and Packers Coach-General Manager Vince Lombardi. Draws Nov. 13 Bye Green Bay will draw a bye Sunday, Nov. 13—giving the Packers a break after eight games—in the NFL's expanded schedule due to the addition of Atlanta as the 15th team. The schedule is lengthened from 14 to 15 weeks and the games jump from 98 to 105. The Falcons will play every team in the league and its won and lost record will be counted in the Eastern Division. Doug Sanders Wins Playoff At Greensboro

Trips Weiskopf on Second Extra Hole For $20,000 Prize

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Confidence that is growing with his string of successes, plus an excellent putter, have made Doug Sanders the choice of at least one highly qualified expert to win the Masters Golf Tournament. "He is going good and has confidence," said Al Bessellink, named Sanders as the man most likely to succeed in the Masters, opening Thursday in Augusta, Ga. Sanders racked up his second straight tournament victory and third of the season Sunday when he dropped in a five-foot putt and beat Tom Weiskopf on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff for the title in the Greater Greensboro Open. Sanders, 32, from Ojai, Calif., said it would take confidence, stamina and a strong game to win the Masters. "Have Confidence" "Needless to say, I have the confidence," he added after picking up his $20,000 check. The triumph followed his victory at Jacksonville, Fla. Earlier this season he won the Bob Hope tourney. Arnold Palmer's concern was with his game. Arnie closed with a 69, but finished well back at 279. "I think my game could be good, but it's not right now," Palmer said. "I'm not confident enough with the putter and my wedge play is so bad I don't like to take it out of my bag. I'm going to do a lot of work in the next three days." Sanders and Weiskopf, 23, of Bedford, Ohio, shot one-under par 70s to finish in a tie with a 72-hole total of 276, eight under par. Each parred the 15th, where the playoff began. On the par Turn to Page 7, Col. 8

Bosox Trade Mantilla for Astros' Kasko

All-Star Second Baseman of 1965 Didn't Fit Plans

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox have made another one of those trades that doesn't figure to help the team, swapping one utility man for another. The Red Sox traded last year's All-Star second baseman, Felix Mantilla, to the Houston Astros Sunday for Eddie Kasko. Boston also optioned four players to Toronto, slashing their roster to 31, just three men above the player limit. Those sent to Toronto were pitchers Bill Rohr and Jerry Herron, catcher Owen Johnson and infielder Mike Andrews. Both announcements were made after the Red Sox had defeated Detroit 6-4 for their sixth exhibition game victory against 17 losses. Liked His Hitting The 32-year-old Mantilla, one of the original New York Mets, who spent three seasons with Boston, didn't figure in the plans of the Red Sox who liked his hitting but couldn't find a regular spot for him because of his fielding. Last year he batted .275 and topped the club in runs batted in with 92. He was among the league batting leaders for the first half of the season and was named the All-Star second baseman. In 1964, Mantilla had 30 home runs and a .289 batting average. Kasko, now 33, lost his short-stop job last season to rookie Sonny Jackson. He was handicapped most of the year by injuries and appeared in only 68 games, batting .247.

Roseboro Greets Marichal With Inside-the-Park Homer

BY HAL BOCK the Giants that was overshadowed by the meeting between him and Marichal. Said Nothing "He said nothing to me and I said nothing to him," Roseboro said later. "I knew there would be no trouble. The only thing I was worried about was that he would make some kind of overture. If he had, I would have had to turn him down." San Francisco General Manager Chub Feeney said he had the Los Angeles catcher approach the Dodgers' General Manager Buzzy Bavasi before the game with an offer from Marichal to shake with Roseboro. The Dodger catcher deflected the offer. There were two men on in the second inning when Roseboro laced a 2-2 Marichal pitch past Giant right fielder Jesus Alou and circled the bases for his home run. He fired out the next time he faced the Giant hurler. White Sox Win Elsewhere Sunday, Atlanta shaded Cincinnati 2-1 in 11 innings, the Chicago White Sox shut out Houston 6-0. Kansas City walloped the New York Mets 10-2, the New York Yankees whipped Philadelphia 8-3. Washington whacked Pittsburgh 12-3, Minnesota nipped St. Louis 4-1. Turn to Page 8, Col. 6

Mele Will Settle for Repeat of '65—But Wants Series Win

Twins' Pilot Wary of Strength of Baltimore, Detroit and Chicago

By JACK HAND

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Sam Mele will settle for a repeat of 1965 when his Minnesota Twins won the pennant by seven games with a team that included the American League's pitcher of the year, most valuable player and batting champion. Only this time, Sam would like to win the World Series too.

"I don't see why we can't win it again," said the manager of the Twins. "I honestly think we can. The fellows liked the idea of being on a winner. The pennant gave them all more confidence."

"We know they all will be shooting at us. Baltimore looks tough and so do Detroit and Chicago. The Yankees will cause trouble if they are healthy. You never can count them out."

Won the Big Games

"Last year we managed to win the big games even though we had a lot of injuries. Camilo Pascual was out for five weeks, and Harmon Killebrew for six. Dave Boswell came down with mononucleosis. Earl Batley was hurt. Jim Kaat had tendonitis. Tony Oliva had a bad knee. All those things can't happen again."

Mele made the Twins speed conscious last year. Instead of standing around waiting for somebody to knock the ball out of the park, they pulled the hit and run and stole 92 bases. The Twins expect to do even more running this season.

Second base still is the question mark in the lineup. Mele has been using Bernie Allen, Jerry Kindall and Frank Quilici at the position on an alternating basis. Allen, bouncing back strong after knee surgery, appears to have an edge. Mele may play Allen against left-handed pitching and use either Kindall or Quilici, his World Series second baseman against the right handers.

Killebrew Volunteers

The rest of the infield is set with Don Mincher at first, Zoilo Versalles, the MVP, at short and Killebrew at third base.

Brewed for the Wonderful World Of Leisure

Available at Your Favorite Spot

A year ago Killebrew was the first baseman. "Harmon came to me when we went to Detroit on our second trip last summer," said Mele. "Dave Wickersham was due to pitch for the Tigers and he figured I'd like to get Minchile player and batting champion. When Mincher dropped off a little, I used Killebrew at first and Rich Rollins at third. That move by Killebrew was a big factor in our winning the pennant."

Oliva, the batting champion in each of his first two years in the league, should be better than ever. The slugging right fielder underwent surgery for a growth on his knee and also on an overgrowth of bone in the middle finger of his right hand. Tony may not sling the bat so far when he misses this year but he might do even better than his 323 and 321 averages the last two years.

Batley Overweight

Catcher Earl Batley reported heavy and has arm trouble but has come around. He will be backed up by Gerry Zimmerman.

Mudcat Grant's long holdout campaign apparently didn't handicap him. Camilo Pascual, knocked out of action last year by muscular trouble, appears to be his old self.

Jim Kaat pulled a muscle in his back during the training season and may not be ready to carry a heavy load in the early weeks. Until Kaat is ready, Jim Ferry and Boswell will team with Grant and Pascual as the four starters.

Al Worthington will be the master of the bullpen with help from Johnny Klippstein, Dick Shigman and Bill Pleis. Rookie Pete Cimino (9-7 at Denver) appears to be the best of the newcomers.

This is a solid ball club with good power and speed, a leaky defense and pretty good pitching. It figures to be hard to beat.

New London Archer Wins Barebow Crown

Winner the barebow division of the Fox Valley Indoor Archery Championships was John Hedtke, of New London, and not Green Bay as stated in Sunday's Post-Crescent. The Post-Crescent was misinformed.

'Not a Young 30'

DeWitt Statement Irks Frank Robinson

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A state club, DeWitt told News sports writer Tommy Fitzgerald. "Nothing personal at all," DeWitt said. "Robinson is not a young 30. If he had been 26, we might not have traded him."

Fitzgerald then wrote that DeWitt cited some of Robinson's medical history. "Greatest Break" Pappas Saturday night called the trade "the greatest break I have ever gotten in my life."

"I should win more games. The comments appeared here with a team able to get a few Sunday morning in the Miami more runs for me," added the News, which sought DeWitt's 27-year-old Reds' right hander reasons for the trade last Dec. 9. "Robinson will have a harder time hitting in the big Oriole oles in exchange for Pappas," relief pitcher Jack Baldschun, considering these comments and rookie outfielder Dick in chronological order, Robinson responded.

The Reds dealt Robinson. "I can't argue with DeWitt if away "to strengthen our ball he says he traded me to strengthen his ball club, but that comment about me being an old 30 is hitting below the belt. It was uncalled for."

"I seems I suddenly got old last fall between the end of the season and Dec. 9. You can tell DeWitt this for me. I'll play more ball games this year for Baltimore than any of the outfielders he's got over there."

"And what is this medical history he was talking about? If DeWitt bothers to check the records, he'll find that I averaged over 150 games a season for 10 years with Cincinnati. "The only time I was out of the lineup for any length of time was in early September of 1963 when Ron Hunt of the Mets came down on me with his spikes on a play at second base. "They put 30 stitches in my left arm and said I'd be out for the rest of the season. I was back playing in 10 days."

Halas Frets Over Friday Game in LA

CHICAGO (AP) — George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, announced his team's 1966 schedule which does not find the Bears home until a month after the season opens.

The Bears will be on the road the first two weeks, draw a bye the third week and then go to Minnesota before their home opener against Baltimore Oct. 9.

Halas said he was disappointed that the Bears' game at Los Angeles Sunday Sept. 18 had been moved up to Friday night, Sept. 16.

"That means we will have to play two games in five days since we open the season at Detroit Sept. 11," said Halas.

Roseboro Hits Homer Off Juan Marichal

Louis 2-1, the Chicago Cubs edged California 8-7 and Boston defeated Detroit 6-4.

Cleveland downed Portland of the Pacific Coast League 9-7 and Baltimore took Miami of the Florida State League 8-5 in other games.

"I was trying too hard to get him out, too hard," Marichal said after his confrontation with Roseboro. "If everybody will leave these two guys alone," said Dodger Manager Walt Alston, "this thing will die a natural death."

Atlanta snapped a four-game losing streak when Lee Thomas drew a bases-loaded walk in the 11th inning against the Reds. Loser Jack Baldschun had intentionally walked Hank Aaron after yielding singles to Felipe Alou and Ed Mathews. Then Thomas walked, forcing Alou across the plate.

3-Hit Shutout

John Buzhardt and Eddie Fisher combined for the White Sox' three-hit shutout of the Astros.

Tommie Agees' two-run double highlighted Chicago's four-run seventh inning.

Kansas City rocked three Met pitchers for 14 hits and whacked New York. Dick Green belted two home runs and Rolfe Sheldon went seven innings for the Athletics.

Tom Tresh, Clete Boyer and Bobby Richardson all homered and rookie Fritz Peterson worked seven strong innings as the Yankees whipped Philadelphia. New York scored seven runs in the first two innings against Chris Short.

Frank Howard and Don Lock homered for Washington as the Senators overcame a 17-hit Pittsburgh attack that included two homers by Roberto Clemente to beat the Pirates. Matty Alou and Dave Roberts had three hits apiece for the losers.

5 Unearned Runs

Minnesota won its sixth straight by scoring two runs in the first inning and then hanging on against the Cardinals. Camilo Pascual, Jim Kaat and Al Worthington split the pitching for the Twins.

Lakers Record Second Victory Over St. Louis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I think we can wrap it up back in St. Louis," said Los Angeles Lakers' Coach Fred Schaus after his team's 125-116 victory over St. Louis Sunday night.

It was the Lakers' second win in the best-of-seven National Basketball Association Western Division playoffs, which continue Wednesday in St. Louis.

Elgin Baylor scored 42 points to set an NBA field goal record for playoff competition with 819 goals. The old record of 818 was held by Tommy Heinsohn of Boston.

"Baylor's performance to-night (Sunday night) was probably the greatest clutch performance I've seen in three years," said Schaus.

Schaus also complimented Rudy LaRusso on defense and Walt Hazzard and Jim King.

Great Job On Wilkins

"King did a great job on Lenzie Wilkins," said Schaus. Wilkins, St. Louis guard, hit only two out of 17 field goals attempted for eight points.

Schaus praised Baylor's defensive playing against forward Joe Caldwell, who hit only eight of 19 field goals attempted.

The Lakers led at the half 61-51. The Hawks managed to shoot only 33 per cent from the floor in the first half, but remained in contention by hitting 17 of 19 free throws.

Zelmo Realy paced the Hawks with 36 points.

St. Louis Player-Coach Richie Guerin agreed that "Baylor was the difference."

Valuable Player for the 1965-66 season. Monahan had a 15.1 also named the team's Most scoring average.

Jim Monahan Named Notre Dame Captain

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Jim Monahan, a 6-foot-3 sharpshooter, has been elected captain of the 1966-67 Notre Dame basketball team.

Monahan, a product of Arcola, Ill., led the Irish cagers in almost every department and was also named the team's Most scoring average.

Dietzel Reportedly Interested In South Carolina Grid Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Football Coach Paul Dietzel of Army and University of South Carolina officials are set for further discussions of the football coaching vacancy at the Southern school later this week.

"I asked some questions, and they asked some questions," Dietzel said after talking with South Carolina officials Sunday. "And when we left it was decided that we would get together."

In answer as to whether he was interested in the South Carolina job, Dietzel said "Like anyone else in coaching or any other business if someone asks you if you are interested discussing a job, you tell them you either have no interest or you talk with them."

"However, I am not obligated to South Carolina, nor is South Carolina obligated to me."

Bass Resigned

The Gamecock head coaching position and the athletic directorship became vacant last week when Marvin Bass resigned to coach Montreal in the professional Continental Football League.

Dietzel, who is believed to have a long-term contract with the Military Academy which he joined after a successful career at Louisiana State has a 21-18-1 record in four seasons with the Cadets. This includes a 1-2-1 mark against Navy. Last season Army was 4-5-1.

Packers Open Against Colts In Milwaukee

each team will play only one opposite-division game, with the Packers drawing the Eastern champion Browns.

The '66 card includes many departures from what had come to be standard operating procedures in Green Bay over the years.

The first Bear game, a fixture here since the two clubs started swinging back in '21, will be played in Chicago for the first time—on Sunday, Oct. 16. The replay is in Green Bay a month later—Nov. 20.

Starts at 3 p.m.

In another switch, there will be a 3 p.m. game at Lambeau Field—against the Vikings Nov. 6. The game has been scheduled as a second game of a national TV doubleheader. The Packers' game at Minnesota Nov. 27 also will start at 3 and also will play a twin bill.

The Packers figure in four league-game national telecasts, headed by the Saturday night classic against the Colts. The others are the games against the Vikings and a Saturday date against the Colts in Baltimore, Dec. 10.

The regular season ends Dec. 18, with the title playoff set for Jan. 1 at the Eastern champion's park.

Pete Rozelle, season ends commissioner, predicts the addition 10 times and lost two or three times in the opening game on our own court," he noted. "Remember, too, we're tired both emotionally and physically after that tough series with the Royals."

Maybe Red was remembering against the Los Angeles Rams. Also on the schedule on the first Sunday are Chicago at Detroit, Cleveland at Washington, Minnesota at San Francisco, New York at Pittsburgh and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

CBS will again televise Sunday games on the club's regional networks and in addition will carry six regular season national telecasts — the Green Bay-Baltimore opener; Chicago at St. Louis, Monday night, Oct. 31; San Francisco at Detroit, day, Cleveland at Dallas, evening, Thanksgiving, Nov. 24; Green Bay at Baltimore, Saturday, Dec. 10; and Cleveland at St. Louis, Saturday, Dec. 17.

There also will be eight Sunday games, Oct. 30 through Dec. 18, when most areas will receive two games on television.

The NFL has five new head coaches—Otto Graham of Washington, Norb Hecker of Atlanta, George Allen of Los Angeles, Bill Austin of Pittsburgh and Charley Winner of St. Louis.

THE TRUE STORY ON APPLETON'S TAX RATE

The voter is being told that Appleton's taxes have gone up every year. This is true, but only the total tax rate is mentioned — never the part levied and spent by the city government.

We need schools, and good ones. It is the mayor's duty and obligation to explain these costs. TAX RATES for city services under the jurisdiction of the mayor and the common council have held the line — even declined — in the face of inflation and the demands of a growing city. Good government doesn't cost — it pays dividends!

This tabulation of city and school tax rates is published for the purpose of supplying the TRUE facts to the citizens of Appleton!

Indonesia to Return to U.N., Seek U. S. Aid

Foreign Minister
Says Country Will
Reestablish Policy

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Foreign Minister Adam Malik said today the new Indonesian government will return to the United Nations and seek to improve relations with the United States. The apparent object is aid for the foundering economy.

Malik told a news conference that Indonesia's return to the United Nations would "depend on many questions." He did not elaborate.

President Sukarno defiantly announced Jan. 7, 1965, that Indonesia was walking out of the world organization because Malaysia — which Sukarno has vowed to crush — had been elected to the Security Council.

Malik, who replaced pro-Peking Foreign Minister Subandrio last month, said the new government led by Lt. Gen. Suharto would return Indonesia to its traditional foreign policy. This was taken to mean a more neutral course of action.

Poor Economy

Malik pointed to the country's near-bankrupt economy in emphasizing the need for improved foreign relations. He said in a reply to a question that relations with the United States have not always been good, but the government would do its best to improve them soon. "We will overcome difficulties existing now," he added.

The foreign minister said there would be no change in the country's attitude toward Red China, but added "If Peking is not satisfied with our new policy, it is, of course, not our business."

He said Indonesia would continue its undeclared war with Malaysia but would "always be opened for peaceful settlement." Malik told newsmen Sunday Indonesia would reduce its military confrontation with Malaysia once peace talks began.

Not Hopeless

Sultan Hamengkubuwono IX, deputy premier for economic affairs, told newsmen that Indonesia's economic situation is serious, but "not hopeless." He

McNamara Will Address Editors

NEW YORK (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara will address the American Society of Newspaper Editors at its May meeting in Montreal, it was announced today.

Vermont Governor, society president and editor of The Wall Street Journal, said McNamara would speak at a luncheon Wednesday, May 18.

Some 500 American editors will attend the convention, the first to be held outside the United States. Leading editors and publishers of Canadian daily newspapers will participate as special guests.

Want Antipoverty Funds

Mississippi Negroes Pitch Tents Opposite White House as Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Homeless and jobless Mississippi Negroes camped today in four tents in a park across the street from the White House to dramatize their plea for $1.3 million in antipoverty funds.

"We're going to keep this up until we receive some assurance from the President that we don't have to spend another winter in our tents in Mississippi," said Frank Smith, the group's leader.

The 90 Negroes — residents of tent cities near Greenville and Greenwood — took turns squatting and sleeping in the tents. Mostly ex-farmhands and plantation workers, they had come to Washington Thursday in hopes of speeding up requests for funds for do-it-yourself job training and home construction projects.

Prayer Vigil

Sunday they turned a march and prayer vigil into a tent-in-alongside four petunia beds on the neatly trimmed grass of Lafayette Park, a square that has become a traditional gathering place for White House protest marches and pickets.

"After the march, the people just wanted to stay here," Smith said.

Marines into a Viet Cong bunker at a village about five miles south of Quang Ngai during a search for Viet Cong on the central coast. There had been heavy fighting in the area the day before. Their wounds were treated by a Marine medic.

Robber Gets $1,000 In Appleton Holdup

Weekend Receipts Taken From
Owens Michigan Service Station

A bearded gunman apparently wearing a nylon stocking over his face, netted about $1,000 in an armed robbery about 5:45 a.m. today at the Owens Michigan Oil Co. service station at W. Wisconsin Avenue and N. Superior Street.

George Coffey, 27, 2908 E. Wisconsin Ave., station manager, was locked in a storeroom following the holdup, and a young newspaper carrier making his morning deliveries entered the station, dropped off a paper, then left unaware that a robbery was in progress.

Coffey told Appleton police immediately after the holdup that about $600 was taken from a small floor safe in the front of the building, but later revised the loss to "51,000 or more."

Weekend Receipts

Coffey, who has managed the station since Dec. 18, said the money represented most of his Saturday and Sunday receipts. He said his company is at least partially insured for such losses.

The station manager, father of four children, said he came to work about 5:10 a.m. to do some bookwork.

About a half hour later, a man walked in the front door, and told Coffey, "This is a slickup. Open the safe." Coffey said the man then took what appeared to be a .22 caliber pistol from beneath his coat.

The gunman, described as about five feet eight or nine inches tall and of medium build, stood just inside a rear room, holding his gun on Coffey as the station manager opened the small floor safe. Coffey recalled that the gunman "said very little" during the entire ordeal.

Left Paper

A newsboy walked in the station while the robbery was in progress, Coffey said. He "did not let on to the boy that the robbery was in progress."

Emergency Midwife Becomes Grandfather

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Robert L. Akins delivered the baby which made him a grandfather Sunday.

Akins, 43, was called on to play midwife at his home in the predawn hours when his daughter's baby began to arrive before the ambulance.

The 6 pound, 6 ounce baby girl was promptly named Traci Dawn.

The new parents, Bill Tucker, 22, and his wife, Deborah, 18, had spent the night at the Akins home while Bill attended an Army reserve drill.

New Rioting Erupts In Viet Nam Capital

Lift Fine Threat

Nation's Railroads Rolling Again After Crippling 4-Day Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trains displaced firemen to be engineers. The railroads contend the union is trying to get firemen's jobs back in a "feather-bedding" attempt.

In calling off the 38-state strike just before last midnight, Gilbert said:

"We have received assurances that the eight struck railroads will not make any reprisals against any employees."

Chicago Stations

The first commuter train rolled out of the Illinois Central later and operations resumed on the seven other railroads from Maine to Florida to California.

But Gilbert goes back before U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff today, facing possible punishment for the 12-hour delay from Holtzoff's Sunday noon deadline for ending the strike.

Holtzoff had imposed fines of $25,000 a day against the union and $2,500 a day against Gilbert, effective at noon.

When pickets remained hours after Gilbert's noon statement that he would end the strike if no reprisals were promised, railroad attorneys went to Holtzoff's home and the judge ordered

Gov. Knowles Wants Delay In Water Talks

State Officials
Answer Democrats'
Pollution Charges

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Gov. Warren P. Knowles said today that a joint interstate federal water quality control conference should be held in Wisconsin.

But he added that he does not believe that such a conference should be held now.

Flanked by Prof. Gerard Rohlich of the University of Wisconsin, head of the State Water Resources Center, and Theodore Wisniewski, Director of the State Committee on Water Pollution, the governor replied to charges by leading Democrats that he has refused to allow state officials to participate in such a conference to deal with pollution problems in interstate waters such as the Great Lakes.

Knowles said, relying on information supplied by the state pollution agencies, that such a conference would be premature.

Such a conference, the governor said, would be held in the future.

Streets, Bars and Other Public Places Declared Off Limits to Americans

SAIGON (AP)—Rioting broke out in Saigon tonight as Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime wrestled with a rising rebellion on its doorstep and in the northern city of Da Nang. The U.S. Military Command declared the capital's streets, bars and public places off limits to off-duty American personnel.

Government police with tear gas and clubs broke up about 500 teen-age demonstrators at the old National Assembly building in the Tu Do but the youths then surged toward the Saigon River in the direction of the U.S. embassy.

Another 1,000 demonstrators struck out from the Buddhist Institute, but police beat them back with tear gas and club charges.

Worst Rioting

The rioting was the worst to hit Saigon in current crisis that threatens the life of Ky's nine-month-old government.

Police cordoned off the U.S. Information Service building, one block from the National Assembly. Tear gas floated in clouds over streets used by the demonstrators to reach the heart of town. The demonstrators appeared to be in the 11 to 15 age bracket.

Demonstrators overturned an American military jeep and set fire to it. None of the occupants were hurt.

The U.S. command declared Saigon off limits round-the-clock to military men shortly before the demonstrators broke out tonight.

Forces Mobilized

In a nationwide broadcast, chief of state Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu appealed once more for an end to the wave of demonstrations and violence. He also announced that all schools would be closed for an indefinite period beginning Tuesday.

Ky mobilized planes and paratroopers to end what he called

Tigerton Gets Federal Aids For Schools

Projects to Help Deprived Pupils, Improve Reading

TIGERTON — The school district has been awarded $19,303 in federal aids under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

A $11,950 grant will be used to establish a reading improvement program for about 75 pupils. Object of the program is to improve the reading ability of the pupils, encourage parents to help motivate and improve the reading habits of the pupils, improve the educational background of teachers in the field of reading, and offer specialized help to teachers working with pupils who have reading problems.

Under the program, the school district will hire two additional teachers. The program is tentatively set to begin later this month and continue until the end of the school year, with a six-week summer session.

The school district has received a $7,353 grant to establish guidance counseling for the educationally deprived pupils.

Object of this program is to reduce the number of drop-outs, improve motivation, help students recognize and solve their problems, involve parents in the program through home visitations and conferences, reduce absenteeism, and conduct in-service meetings to keep the faculty aware of developments.

The grant will be used to hire a guidance counselor, conduct tests, physical examinations, and purchase guidance materials.

This project will be undertaken on a cooperative basis with the Burnamwood and Bowler schools, who also received federal aids.

Attorney General Asks Solid Buying Education

Bronson LaFollette Keynotes State Teacher Federation District Meeting

OSHKOSH — Atty. Gen. Bronson C. LaFollette Friday called upon Wisconsin educators to provide more and better programs for consumer education.

He made these remarks as the keynote speaker of the Wisconsin Federation of Teachers' district convention in Oshkosh today.

LaFollette noted statistics which show that an ever-increasing number of high school graduates are assuming family responsibilities at an earlier age.

LaFollette said, "modern education attempts to equip the high school graduate with the tools necessary to enable him either to meet the challenges of higher education offered by college and university or to become useful, productive citizens."

Difficult Decisions
"Those students who do not go on to college and who undertake family responsibilities shortly after graduation from high school are faced with making complex, difficult financial decisions which may have an impact upon the rest of their lives."

"As more of our young people assume family obligations and responsibilities they are required very early in life to decide what kinds of insurance programs are necessary, how best to finance the purchase of a home, and how best to acquire all of the consumer goods which are necessary in a modern home."

WAUPACA — A milestone will be marked Tuesday in Waupaca County as a new 31-member board of supervisors is selected by the voters to comply with the new one-man, one-vote rule. The cut will leave 21 empty seats in the board chambers at the courthouse.

Carley Hits Myth Of Federal Control

Waupaca Democrats Told States To Take New, Important Role

CLINTONVILLE — David Carley, Democratic national committeeman and candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor said Sunday that there is no greater myth in America than that the federal government desires to control every public program and every activity in the public welfare.

Carley, speaking to a meeting of the Waupaca County Democratic Party, said that "those political leaders who flail away at federal 'domination' in state government affairs are woefully ignorant of what can be done in a working federal-state partnership.

"I am especially critical of the position taken by Gov. Warren Knowles on the matter of water pollution control in Wisconsin. The Governor says that he will not call a conference of the three states of Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin to meet with federal officials because he is worried about 'states' rights' and 'federal control,'" Carley noted.

New Role for States — He is "convinced that the federal government does not want to 'control' the anti-poverty program. In fact, it will have to turn to the states increasingly in this area because the federal machinery is too impersonal and too detached to deal with highly social and personal matters such as poverty correction."

Carley said "the matter of Pelky and read by Charles protection of the quality of our Jacobson; a student-produced environment, our water, our film, "The Reject," written by scenic beauty, the air we breathe, all of these are not the direction of Charles Sachs, exclusive province of the federal and American music between government, and the fact is that it is in great need of all the help it can get from alert, imaginative state government.

"The shape of a regional or city plan, the development of a mass transportation system, the development of a recreation Netzel and Miss Frances tourist plan and the make-up of a neighborhood public health project all have federal financial assistance, but in no instance does the federal government desire to control the project," he continued.

Back Johnson — "Those who hide behind the myth of 'federal domination' are the greatest enemies of progress in our local and state governments."

The county party adopted a resolution backing President Johnson's Viet Nam policy, and another demanding that Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Marshfield) "clearly state his position on the conflict in Viet Nam, or stand accused of attempting to exploit this tragic situation for sordid political gain for himself and his party."

The party also adopted a resolution condemning as "irresponsible" statements "concerning increased commodity prices to the farmer as inflationary until these prices reach 100 per cent of parity and restore agriculture to an equal plateau with the rest of the segments of the economy."

Delegates for the 7th District meeting at Stevens Point May 8 will be elected at a meeting April 24 at New London.

The state convention will be at Madison June 10 and 11.

English Festival Planned at KHS

KAUKAUNA — A public day-long English festival involving almost all of the high school students is being planned at Kaukauna High School April 17. Faculty members in charge are Dennis Kral and Bernard Hup-pers.

Programs will be given at regular intervals in the lecture room. It will include "A Documentary of United States Literature," compiled by Bruce Carley and read by Charles Jacobson; a student-produced environment, our water, our film, "The Reject," written by scenic beauty, the air we breathe, all of these are not the direction of Charles Sachs, exclusive province of the federal and American music between government, and the fact is that it is in great need of all the help it can get from alert, imaginative state government.

"The shape of a regional or city plan, the development of a mass transportation system, the development of a recreation Netzel and Miss Frances tourist plan and the make-up of a neighborhood public health project all have federal financial assistance, but in no instance does the federal government desire to control the project," he continued.

Back Johnson — "Those who hide behind the myth of 'federal domination' are the greatest enemies of progress in our local and state governments."

Cat Nearly Loses All Nine Lives in Clash With Hundred Horses

A black and white cat was listed by an Appleton patrolman as appearing to be "in grave condition" after it tangled with more than a hundred horses Thursday afternoon.

The horses were under the hood of a pickup truck owned by an Appleton man.

The man stopped an Appleton patrolman at Meade and Pershing Streets and asked assistance in freeing a cat that became caught between the fan and the radiator where it apparently had crawled to keep warm.

When the patrolman lifted the hood, he found the feline sitting on top of the motor. The cat was rushed to a veterinarian.

In delinquent and postponed taxes after the local collections totaled $360,891.

City of Kiel

City of Kiel's treasurer took in $45,979 of the $67,447 tax total leaving $21,469.

A total of $368,960 collected locally in the City of New Holstein. This leaves $49,369 of the $418,329 total roll remaining in delinquent and postponed taxes.

Zahn said July 31 is the deadline for payment. The Appleton city precinct makes settlement with the county later in the year.

Payments Totalling $6.4 Million Mailed By State for Street, Road Improvements

The four-county area including Outagamie, Calumet, Winnebago and Waupaca will receive payments totaling $339,715 of the $6.4 million disbursed by the state for improvements of local public roads and streets.

Streets and public roads certified as being open and used for travel excepting state and county truck highways and connecting streets are eligible for the allotment.

Counties Re-Inventoried

Approximately one-fifth of the counties are re-inventoried each year to determine the exact mileage open for public travel.

The allotment is the first portion of approximately $46 million in highway user taxes collected by the state and returned to local municipal governments during the year.

Statutes prescribe cities over 150,000 population receive $520 per mile in basic aids. Cities

Sigman Relieved In Cornelius Case

Judge Takes Action After Youth Voices Displeasure With Attorney

Appleton attorney Samuel Sigman this morning was formally relieved as court-appointed counsel for Richard Allen Cornelius, 20-year-old Milwaukee youth charged with three counts of arson and one of criminal trespass in connection with three Town of Oneida fires early Oct. 31.

County Judge Urban P. Van Susteren, on a request by Sigman, relieved the attorney shortly after a list of 36 potential jurors was drawn to hear the case which starts at 9 a.m. Monday.

Invested Funds in Kaukauna Return Above Estimate

KAUKAUNA — Ald Gilbert Anderson, chairman of the finance committee, announced Saturday, investment of $775,000 of city funds in United States receipts of $18,000 for the city or $8,000 above the anticipated budget figure of $10,000 for 1966.

Plans call for the investment of another $400,000 in treasury bills April 8. The $500,000 from a recent bond issue to finance construction of the sewage disposal plant has also been invested, realizing $19,000 return, or $2,000 more than the $17,000 interest due on the bond issue.

Interest realized by investments helps reduce the tax rate for taxpayers, noted Anderson. Invested funds return sufficient money to pay the salaries of one or more city workers or can be utilized to purchase needed equipment, said Anderson.

Outagamie County will receive $3,790; Brillion, $1,069; Chilton $1,675; Kiel, $145; New Holstein, $1,413; Hilbert, $310, $244; Iola $244; Ogdensburg, $1,413; Little Chute, $965; and Shiocton $253. Twenty towns will receive the remaining $46,751.

Calumet County is scheduled for $38,610. The portion of Appleton in Calumet County will receive $3,790; Brillion, $1,069; Chilton $1,675; Kiel, $145; New Holstein, $1,413; Hilbert, $310, $244; Iola $244; Ogdensburg, $1,413; Little Chute, $965; and Shiocton $253. Twenty towns will receive the remaining $46,751.

Waupaca County is allotted $67,372. Clintonville is scheduled for $2,743; Manawa, $643; Marion, $876; New London, $2,620; $1,407; Winneconne, $683, and 16 Waupaca, $2,631; Weyauwega, towns a total of $29,773.

Changing the Primary Dates

An incidental development at the conference of principal Wisconsin politicians on the revision of the Wisconsin presidential primary law was the disclosure that leaders of both Wisconsin political parties are doubtful about the validity of the traditional state primary election calendars.

National Committeeman David Carley of the Democratic Party observed, without overt dissent from other party spokesmen of Republican and Democratic persuasions, that the presidential primary conducted at four year intervals in April is too early and that the regular state primary election in September is too late for contemporary conditions.

Both could be held in June, he suggested. It appears unlikely that it will be practical to hold them simultaneously, not only because there will be reservations about the wisdom of associating state and national issues, but because a constitutional amendment is now in the process of advancing through the legislature that would lengthen the gubernatorial term to four years and schedule elections for governor in the year when a presidential election is not being held.

But the objection to the September primary is a good one, whatever is decided about the presidential preference balloting date.

Holding the nominating elections in September permits too little time for a full exploration of the issues between the parties and the candidates, and too little opportunity for them to communicate their proposals and positions to the voters. This year, for example, Democratic candidates for governor will campaign for eight or nine months in anticipation of the primary. The victor in September will have less than two months in which to adjust his campaign to the competition with the Republican nominee. In other recent years Republicans have faced the same problem.

The September primary and the abbreviated general election period is a legacy from the era of one party rule. During long decades of the first half of this century, Wisconsin politics basically was factional politics and the choice was within a single party, the Republican Party. The basic election laws were written many years ago by men who regarded the major election as the primary election, the struggle between the LaFollette Progressive Republicans and the Stalwart or Regular Republicans. The later contest with the Democratic Party was an anti-climax.

Wisconsin now has a legitimate, real and competitive two party system. It is time for the legislature to consider the need to adjust the machinery of elections to the realities of today.

Wilson's Victory in Britain

The triumph of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor Party in Great Britain's general elections was a surprise only in the size of the majority. Despite the fact that the polls — and the betting odds — had predicted a landslide for Labor, the predictions had been wrong a year and a half ago when Wilson's party barely managed to get a five seat majority in the House of Commons.

Wilson called for general elections because he felt this was a favorable time. The average British citizen is having unremembered prosperity despite the weakness of the pound in international affairs. In his short term as prime minister, Wilson has raised pensions, liberalized national health insurance programs, slapped taxes on "upper class" gambling such as expensive casinos and horse races, and announced plans to change the confusing pound, shilling and pence basis for the currency to the decimal system. In general, much of his program has made things better for the average Englishman.

But Wilson's popularity has really come from his moving to the middle of the road from his earlier posture as left even of his own party. He has been tough on union demands for higher wages and less work and so far has not nationalized the ailing steel industry although that may now come. He has been able to talk about the eventual withdrawal of British military forces and therefore much British influence "East of the Suez" at the same time that he was carefully backing the United States position in Viet Nam. And he has resisted the demands of more extremist voices to send troops to capture Rhodesia.

Wilson campaigned primarily on his domestic program and the problem for the Conservatives was to find something wrong with it. This is hard to do when the majority of citizens seem to be satisfied with the way things are going.

But Wilson's personal popularity was also a factor in the election. While in Britain's parliamentary system, Wilson's name was actually on the ballot only in the Liverpool district which he represents, he carried the election. His Conservative opponent was able only to dredge up scare tactics about rising prices. But the public actually had more reason to worry that a return to Conservatives in power would mean slashed welfare benefits and a more belligerent attitude in world affairs.

Wilson now has a comfortable majority in Parliament. It will be interesting to note whether he continues his moderate policies under this new condition.

Uniform Time at Last

Through the wonder of congressional compromise, the nation will have a uniform system of daylight saving time. But as part of the compromise, it will have to wait until 1967 and accept the annual summer confusion for one more year.

Both houses of Congress supported the idea of requiring that all states with daylight saving time observe the change from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October, the period now followed by Wisconsin. But the Senate balked at accepting a House bill to require that daylight saving time or standard time must be on a state-wide basis.

How Now, Mr. McNamara?

Maybe Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara knows something that nobody else does.

A few weeks ago when Hanson Baldwin of the New York Times wrote an article on how overextended and thinly spread he thought American military forces were, Secretary McNamara replied heatedly that the American armed forces were "fully capable" of meeting their commitments anywhere. In a rare display of temper, McNamara chewed out a German reporter who was concerned about whether American troops might be withdrawn from NATO to fill in gaps in Viet Nam.

But now the Defense Department has acknowledged that another newspaper report, this time in the Los Angeles Times, is quite accurate in pointing out that four of the six emergency combat divisions in the continental United States are below combat-ready status.

There are two major reasons. Much of the personnel in some specialties has been drained off and sent as replacements to Viet Nam. And the divisions are also being used for basic training programs in the stepped-up draft policy. Since by law American military personnel cannot be sent out of the country with less than four months of training, the availability of the divisions for combat has been drastically cut not to mention the extent of training of some of the personnel.

The situation is "not surprising," said a Pentagon spokesman, because the decision was made not to call up the National Guard or the reserves and the increase in the number of draftees needing basic and more advanced training developed rapidly. In addition, some new personnel while still in training themselves are being used on a temporary basis in the training of recruits.

All of this is probably necessary as long as the Defense Department for some reason or other did not want to call up any National Guard or reserve units except on the limited volunteer basis.

Secretary McNamara now explains that the shortages and the lack of combat readiness do not in any way handicap us in meeting our world commitments. Maybe what we've really been confused about is the extent of those commitments.

President Vetos Civil Rights Bill

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for March 29, 1866.

On Tuesday last, the President returned the Civil Rights Bill to the Senate without his signature, and with his objections. We shall probably publish the Bill next week, with the veto message.

The Bill is entitled "An Act

The President says, "I regret that the bill contains provisions which I cannot approve consistently with my sense of duty to the whole people, and obligations to the Constitution of the United

We hope Congress will pass the Bill over the veto, and leave the question of Constitutionality to the Supreme Court.

All Taxpayers Paying 'Fair Share,' But Look What Fair Share Covers

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

The Internal Revenue Service, stroking its new computers like Willie Mays strokes his bat, announces these mean "each taxpayer will be paying his fair share." Fair share, my eye!

What is our fair share of the $122 million paid fat-cat Philadelphia contractor Matthew McCloskey, a bigwig political money raiser, for Washington's Sam Rayburn Building? It houses our Congressmen at a cost of $221,000 a head.

That's a fair enough share for the Congressmen and McCloskey. But what's ours?

What is our fair share of the bill for conflict of interest that profits Congressmen and other officials tied in with airlines, TV stations, defense suppliers and such? Or the payroll for relatives like absentee Congressman Adam Clayton Powell's $19,700-a-year absentee wife, officially named untouchable by Congress itself?

HOW ABOUT BOBBY?

What has the Internal Revenue Service and the Department of Justice really done to Bobby Baker? He resigned under fire October 7, 1963. The stalling passed into its third year before even an indictment was sought that involved not a single Washington official. Said Sen. Clifford Case: "This matter is too outrageous to let it slip into the obscurity of the files." Yet what would have happened to the ordinary taxpayer who took the Fifth Amendment as Bobby Baker did?

What is our fair share of the junkets, the plush $5.9 million private jets, pay increases and the squandering (free) of our taxpayers' foreign currencies this column has dealt with at length, called counterpart funds?

What is our fair share of Sargent Shriver's $5.4 billion Poverty War in New York City, Chicago, etc., where it's admittedly shot through with dishonesty, political preference and stealing? How, precisely would you define Shriver's alibi when he answers, "That's life"?

Somebody remarked the other day that the only way you can pay your taxes and live a middle-class life today is to be poor enough to qualify for the poverty programs.

Beyond these, what is our fair share for the politically padded relief roll, with some favored free-loaders getting

People's Forum

For Answer on Taxes, Just Look at Your Bill

Editor, Post-Crescent:

During the past several weeks two paid political announcements have appeared in a local north side paper. One by the present mayor, the second by Mrs. Gerald Schoepke — both identical ads promoting the "progress" of the city during the past eight years. On Sunday, April 3rd this identical ad appeared in the People's Forum of the Post-Crescent — and printed without charge. This ad specifically states that our taxes have increased only slightly during the last eight years. I ask any taxpayer in the city to look at his tax bills for that period and question this. Mine have gone up 30 per cent.

handouts into the second and third generations?

Here we are in history's biggest boom, employment officially called "menacingly tight." Businesses everywhere are crying for workers, as is obvious in any newspaper. But the relief rolls still go up and up and will boost our share in some big cities to a half-billion dollars this year.

The politicians are so busy showing their liberal credentials (at our expense) that the rest of us who are only taxpayers or soldiers get lost in their profitable game.

What is our fair share in footing the losses for a post office whose bad service is a growing scandal? Or our fair share for the federal paperwork jungle?

BIG BROTHER

A House investigating subcommittee's exposure was squelched, but it stated that Big Brother is requiring about a billion reports a year from us. Big Brother's handling charge to us exceeded $7 billion last year.

What is our fair share where Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara finds obsolete 113 Atlas and Titan launching sites in 13 states that cost us $856.9 million? Or is this, as Falstaff said, a question not to be asked?

What is our fair share of the consequences extending from the Bay of Pigs, the backdown in Laos, the glaring failures to honor our own word before we were painted into a corner in Viet Nam? The incredible billions on billions that official failures, bad judgment and cover-ups have cost us are the biggest single factor in the tax load.

And the very man, elected and appointed alike, responsible for all this are only nominally subject to the tax collector and the government as a whole because they are the government.

What would they say, and what could they do, if the nation's taxpayers all — all — just mailed the new computers a blank tax return on April 15 and let the taxers stew in their own juice for awhile?

This country needs a Patrick Henry. We're being robbed deaf, dumb and blind.

Improvement in State Presidential Primary Laws Seems Possible

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Perhaps to the surprise of the participants among others, the advisory commission of politicians of both parties invited by Gov. Knowles to consider reform of the Wisconsin presidential primary law has begun its work amicably and with a promise of significant achievement.

The Wisconsin presidential primary system, mostly because it brings the state considerable publicity in the national press at four-year intervals, has attained a certain fame and distinction. Ostensibly the Wisconsin machinery provides the rank and file of the people a direct voice in the selection of presidential nominees. Yet the process is frequently a spurious one, as most close students of political affairs are aware. A real choice among the actual contenders for the presidency is rarely offered. There is no way under the present law to assure such a choice. Instead, the political managers file in Wisconsin or avoid Wisconsin according to their own conceptions of strategy and convenience. There is an inevitable crossover vote that blurs the results, moreover, and sometimes makes them almost meaningless.

CONSENSUS

The professional politicians have known these things and have grumbled about them in private for many years.

What was remarkable about the discussions among the members of the committee invited by Gov. Knowles to consider a reform bill for the May legislative session was the quick consensus obtained.

A listener could have closed his eyes in the meeting room and found himself unable to distinguish the Democrats from the Republicans as they joined in earnest and intelligent discussions about the problem and the means available to resolve it or to mitigate it.

The most promising method

evidently available is the so-called Oregon plan — named after the state which now has the system — and which assures the free and complete choice for the electorate which the Wisconsin law intends to provide but does not.

The central feature of the Oregon law is the listing on the ballot of the candidates who are actually seeking presidential nominations, without regard to their own desire to run in the state primary. When the election officers decide who is running, the only way for any aspirant to avoid a listing on the ballot is through the filing of a formal disclaimer of candidacy.

THE CROSSOVER

Professional politicians generally fear and detest the crossover, the tendency of Republicans to move into a Democratic primary, and vice versa, when there is a contest on one side of the ballot and no contest on the other side. Yet to strike at the crossover problem directly, as through a "closed primary" by party practicable. Such legislation could not be passed in Wisconsin because of the limitations implicit upon the voters' freedom of action.

A manifest attraction of the Oregon method of listing all the candidates in both parties, willy-nilly, is that it would "close" the primary by indirect. A Republican or a Democrat could cross over into the opposition party, if he insisted. But he would be unlikely to do so if he had an honest range of candidates of his own party offered to him on primary election day.

Likely to be somewhat more difficult to resolve is the issue of delegate selection. Leaders of both party organizations tend to believe that the delegate selection process is a party matter and should be handled through party organizations rather than popular election. But there is some hesitation because of the possible appearance of reducing the voter's rights.

Yet it may be that such resistance will be lessened, if the public is made to realize that the delegates can be made responsive to the popular will by law. It would be a simple matter to write into the statutes a requirement that a state's delegates, however selected, are bound to support the majority will as shown in the presidential preference balloting.

Value of Individuals Much Like Fractions

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

"It's an interesting thing about fractions," observed my 10-year-old boy the other night, while he was grappling with his homework. "The larger the bottom number gets, the smaller it really is."

This seems so obvious to us that we never think of it. Of course, 1-10 is smaller than 1-5, and 1-20 is even smaller. As the bottom figure gets larger, it actually shrinks in value.

Now, considering the total human population as a whole purpose of any social system: to sustain an equation by addition, not by division.

If this is too abstract to visualize, the same lesson can be drawn by noting what happens to human "fractions" in any smaller social system — say, a business firm.

The larger any one individual becomes in this firm, the smaller becomes the firm's value — because if this one individual goes, too much power and responsibility go with him, and there is chaos after his departure. In seeking to become more important than he should, he has actually reduced the total importance of the system.

Many business failures occur, indeed, precisely because they are top-heavy, and no chain of command has been forged that is strong enough to withstand the loss of the man at the apex. His strength — like the dubious "strength" of a dictator — has only weakened the whole structure in its ability to survive his leaving.

Genuine power of personal-ith is rarely individual power — rather, it is the power to contribute heavily toward a system that will be stronger after we leave it than when we joined it. Napoleon actually weakened France, just as Hitler weakened Germany, for by inflating the lower figure in the fraction, they eventually reduced the whole number to impotence. And the moral arguments against them are less conclusive than the mathematical proof that such self-assertion must, by its very nature, always fail in the end.

U. S. Buys 20 Pct. of Our Goods, Services

BY SYLVIA PORTER

A full 20 per cent of all the goods and services we produce each year is now bought by government—federal, state and local, against little more than 5 per cent at the turn of the century. Throughout this century's years of war and peace, deflation and inflation, government has been buying an even larger share of our output and thereby expanding its influence not only as to what shall be produced but also where and by whom."

One of every 100 individuals employed in the U. S., 26 now work directly or indirectly for government, against only 5 out of every 100 two generations ago. As government's impact on employment has grown, so has its "direct or latent power to determine who shall be employed and where."

Survival Difficult

Government has increasingly subjected the business structure and operations to regulations, ranging from traditional creation of independent regulatory agencies to today's "voluntary" guidelines on prices, wages, foreign investments, etc. As a result, much of management's struggle for success, if not survival, has shifted from fraticidal competition within industry itself to emerging without fatal consequences from government inspection and interrogation, if not intervention."

This past Friday, "A Symposium on Business-Government Relations" was held in Washington under the sponsorship of the American Bankers Association. Attending the one-day conference was a select group of America's highest-level corporate executives. Arguing the good and bad aspects of today's relationships, particularly the price-wage foreign investing guidelines, were respected authorities whose views range from liberal to deeply conservative. Giving the background statistics and comments I quoted above was Martin R. Gainsbrugh, senior vice president of the National Industrial Conference Board. This was a nonsense session on a question of vital significance to all of us.

To me, the most absorbing comments were those by the conservative critics. Samples: "The expansion of informal political controls over economic activity is an unmitigated evil from the longer-term viewpoint appropriate to a nation."

"The most important feature of the guidelines is their threat to freedom and civil liberties, for the guidelines are not laws and it has been made clear that their enforcement will be by undue processes."

This is tough stuff from intelligent men and it demands attention. Yet, despite the shock appeal of the denunciation of the guidelines, Gainsbrugh's statistics pulverize the arguments into unreality.

There can be no return to a free enterprise system in which supply-demand forces in the marketplace determine prices; and wages. Government plays too dominant a role today and a reversal of this political movement is inconceivable in our era. To illustrate with more of Gainsbrugh's figures:

—The combined spending of all levels of government is now around $185 billion a year against a peak of $29 billion in public outlays prior to World War II.

—Government supplies 7 per cent of all personal incomes, "free" to individuals each year (Social Security retirement, disability, unemployment benefits, etc.). In 1929, these payments represented 1 per cent of individual incomes.

—Government collects 28 per cent of our national income in taxes alone. Federal receipts are now greater than this nation's total annual output as late as 1941.

Deplore or approve it, this is the way it is, and it is against this background that responsible observers should try not to kill the guidelines but to refine them so they'll be a success.

All the alternatives so far proposed to reconcile full employment and price stability would be far more radical or detestable or destructive and less workable.

VFW Commander Raps 'Vietniks'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Demonstrators against U. S. policy in Viet Nam were called, among other names, "misguided vietniks" by Andy Borg, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Borg issued a statement from VFW headquarters here Saturday night saying he has only disgust for "those misguided vietniks and demonstrators ...

the bearded bathless ones who flaunt the Viet Cong flag before the White House and in parades up Fifth Avenue."

Borg, who said the demonstrators are a small minority, also called them "petty people who are nothing but sheep being led by left-wingers and Communists."

New Rioting Erupts In Viet Nam Capital

Da Nang after dark, urging merchants to close their shops and pedestrians to get off the streets because "troops are coming."

But there was no sign yet of any airborne landings in Da Nang by soldiers loyal to Ky.

In Hue, another center of unrest 40 miles north of Da Nang, 4,000 persons staged a protest rally climaxed by an orderly march past the U.S. consulate. They dropped off copies of letters to President Johnson and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant appealing to the United States to withdraw its recognition of the Ky government and "not to obstruct self-determination."

War Effort

While the political threat held the attention of Ky and the ruling junta of generals, American fighting men bore the brunt of the war effort in four major ground sweeps against little resistance in the south and 12 air strikes — a near record — against North Viet Nam.

Riot police in Saigon broke up a threatened antigovernment anti-American march by 200 students from the capital's main Buddhist institute.

A report from Dalat said demonstrators there set fire to nor said, would be an "enforcement conference" held by an agency that no longer will have control of such water quality standards at the end of this month, and to enforce standards that do not yet exist.

Under a presidential order, the water quality standards control functions will be moved from the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare April 29 to the Department of Interior, unless Congress intervenes before that time.

Wisniewski said such a federal conference held on Wisconsin pollution problems in 1963 was "inefficient, illegal and wasteful of the taxpayers' money," for no speedup of anti-pollution efforts resulted. Those people responsible for such pollution, Wisniewski said, still obey state and not federal orders.

Preliminary Meeting

The trio endorsed a preliminary meeting between officials from several states and regional federal water workers as a means of exchanging information on mutual problems. A federal survey of Wisconsin pollution problems made three years ago still has not become available to state officials, they said.

Rohlich termed such a fact-finding meeting "a logical first step."

Knowles said the entrance of federal anti-pollution officials into such state activities could slow local efforts, instead of bringing gains. There is no more federal money to be had for pollution abatement efforts in Wisconsin, he said. If there was, the state would be hard at work trying to get it, the governor said.

The problem with federal pilot programs on municipal problems, Knowles said, is that too often inadequate funds are appropriated to meet all applications made for aid.

"This tends to bog down state efforts. Every one wants to see if lightning is going to strike them." Little is done in the meantime, he said.

Knowles said he does not believe that water resource problems should become a matter of politics. "This thing has become a football," the governor said, "and I'm taking all the kicking."

the government radio stations, located in a hotel in the mountain resort.

Only 20 miles southwest of troubled Da Nang, U.S. Marines continued a sweep called Operation Orange but were under strict orders to avoid any involvement in the swirling political developments. B52s from Guam dropped tons of explosives on suspected enemy escape routes five miles ahead of the Marine thrust this morning.

Air Attacks

With skies clear over North Viet Nam Sunday, U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers destroyed six bridges and damaged 17, sank three junks and damaged six and cratered roads from the 17th Parallel frontier to Vinh, 150 miles to the north, a U.S. spokesman reported.

In the south, the destroyers Robison, Richard S. Edwards and Berkeley threw 435 five-inch shells at suspected Viet Cong base camps and huts.

The U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airborne, reported four contacts with North Vietnamese regulars in the Chu Phong Mountains on the Cambodian border 220 miles north of Saigon and killed four Reds, a spokesman said. After Communist mortars opened up on the Americans from across the border Sunday U.S. officers guided in air strikes on the Red bunkers 200 to 400 yards across the frontier.

Operation Lincoln

The cavalrymen, joined by a brigade of the U.S. 25th Infantry, report killing 316 Communists, capturing 6 and seizing 71 weapons thus far in their highland sweep, Operation Lincoln.

The 25th Infantry's 2nd Brigade poked into an old Communist sanctuary, the Ho Bo woods northwest of Saigon, and uncovered a large network of tunnels, including what seemed to be an underground Viet Cong war room where four 60mm mortars were left. The operation, Circle Pines, so far has killed 98 Communists, captured 4, and captured 40 weapons, 35 tons of rice and 72 miles, a U.S. spokesman said.

Another Find

Another big find was reported by the Marines in Operation Jackstay, in the mangrove swamps 17 miles south of Saigon. Lt. Col. Harold L. Coffman of Huntington, Pa., said his Leathernecks had uncovered an abandoned multibattalion Viet Cong base camp. The haul included 60,000 rounds of ammunition and "everything from razor blades to grindstones," Coffman said.

Army Divisions Readied Only On Paper, McNamara Admits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two regular Army brigades mentioned by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as among "several important steps" taken to boost readiness, still exist only on paper, it was learned today.

The Army acknowledged that formation of the two brigades at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and Ft. Benning, Ga., has slipped by several months.

"Higher priority activations of new units scheduled for deployment to Viet Nam caused a slippage in the original schedule," the Army said.

Spokesmen said the two units, which will total nearly 8,000 men in all, are now to be organized during the next three months.

Scheduled for January

The brigade designated for Ft. Campbell was to have been set up in January, the one at Ft. Benning in February.

The AP inquired about the status of the two brigades after McNamara made public a letter March 31 defending his policy of using four regular Army divisions in the United States to water, on the Gulf Coast northwest of Tampa, and Fort Pierce and Melbourne on the Atlantic Coast.

Minor Damage

Clearwater, about 30 miles northwest of Tampa, apparently escaped with relatively minor damage. Windows were blown out, signs went down, a 20-foot boat on a trailer was hurled through a filling station window.

Torrents of rain fell and power went out in the area blacking out traffic lights and causing a monster traffic jam on busy Gulf to Bay Blvd., during the height of the morning rush hour.

At Melbourne, a state highway patrolman reported: "Twisters hit at six different places. We have quite a few injured now. Trailers and cars have been overturned. All our cars are enroute to the scene." From the paths of the tornadoes came dozens of reports of homes smashed, trees and utility poles toppled, buildings unroofed and cars tossed around like toys.

Two small girls were injured when the school bus was overturned by a twister in a fashion-anything was wrong because I didn't want to get him involved." The boy left the morning newspaper on the desk and walked out. The gunman remained in the back room while the boy was in the station.

The money taken from the state was in a canvas bag and was believed to be mostly cash, Coffey said.

After the station manager emptied the safe for the gunman, he was "waved" into a small, screened-in storeroom at the rear of the building.

The gunman snapped a padlock on the storeroom door and told Coffey to stay in there "at least a minute." The man, who Coffey said was wearing a long black coat, felt hat and gloves, then left through the front door.

Coffey said he did not know which direction the man went or if he had a car waiting.

Three Minutes

The station manager called police after forcing the screws out of the storeroom lock. Coffey said the man stayed in the station a total of about three minutes.

Although Appleton police said they had no good leads, they are checking out a black 1950-model car without license plates that was first spotted traveling south on Superior Street about an hour after the robbery and later was found parked in the 400 block of N. Appleton Street.

This morning's robbery was the third in Appleton in three months.

On Jan. 25, about 3 p.m., an armed robber took about $175 from Heigl's Market, 302 S. Story St. A 17-year-old Appleton High School senior was clerking in the store at the time of the robbery.

Two Neenah youths, 17 and 18, who were activated in early years old, are awaiting court February at Ft. Riley, Kan. That was about two months behind schedule and the division will be in combat shape next fall, by present indications.

One of the three brigades was formed according to plan last October at Ft. Devens, Mass. Army sources said it is now about ready.

The brigades consist of three infantry battalions, one artillery battalion and other supporting units.

U. S. Railroads Rolling Again After Walkout

dered the union to show cause why the fines should not be raised to $500,000 and $10,000 a day.

The end of the strike came 12 hours after Johnson told Gilbert "the nation's interest and respect for our courts require your immediate compliance today with the district court order."

But the union credited Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz with helping wrap up no reprisal pledges from the final two railroads — the Central of Georgia and the Seaboard Air Line — finally ending the walkout.

The firemen had refused to go back on any railroad until all eight made such pledges.

The other struck lines — in addition to the Illinois Central — were the Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Grand Trunk Western, Boston & Maine and the Pennsylvania Railroad west of Harrisburg, Pa.

Holtzoff also scheduled court hearings today on the basic fight — the elimination of about 18,000 firemen's jobs the past two years under a federal arbitration award that expired at 12:01 a.m. last Thursday when the strike began.

Slashing Jobs

Congress, in its first compulsory arbitration law in U.S. peacetime history, did not say what would happen when the arbitration ruling expired. The union contends it can demand that all jobs be restored, while the approximately 200 railroads, involved claim they have the right to keep on slashing jobs.

The firemen won nothing in the strike that cost the railroads an estimated $5 million a day, idled some 200,000 workers on the railroads and other industries dependent on rail supply, and lost $320,000 a day in wages to the 8,000 striking firemen alone.

But a union spokesman said it proved the weakened union still was powerful enough to wield the powerful strike weapon and bring the vast railroad industry to a halt.

Special Arbitration

At one point, it was learned, there was a strong possibility of the strike spreading to other railroads, potentially touching off another national crisis like the one that led Congress to step in with the special arbitration law in 1963.

The possibility of multimillion-dollar damage suits against the union by the railroads remained.

The union, in the final strike settlement, dropped its demand that the eight railroads waive indicated that curing its ills would depend heavily on foreign aid.

The United States now gives no economic aid to Indonesia. Washington began cutting off aid in the early 1960's as Sukarno swung toward Peking and became openly anti-American.

When Sukarno spurned the United Nations last year, he turned his back on $50 million that had been earmarked for Indonesia by such specialized U.N. agencies as the International Monetary Fund. Indonesia had already received $35 million in U.N. aid during the 14 years before its walkout.

The price of rice has climbed 30 times in the past 14 months. Indonesia, fifth largest nation in the world with a population of 105 million, has bled its resources of foreign exchange by importing up to $125 million worth of rice every year until last year.

Maj. Gen. Basuki Rachmat, the home minister, said that 18 former members of Sukarno's Cabinet were now under arrest — indicating three more had been detained since the roundup of pro-Communist ministers March 18.

all such suits. Several railroads threatened to sue.

But the financial position of the union — with a total of about $5 million in cash and property assets — made it unlikely the railroads would be able to collect anything near their claimed losses from the strike.

Gronouski Says Bulgaria Wants Trade With U. S.

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP)—John A. Gronouski, U.S. Ambassador on an East European factfinding tour, said Saturday Bulgaria is interested in joint ventures and co-production with American firms.

"A very important member of the Bulgarian Foreign Trade Ministry expressed to me great interest not only in trade but also in joint ventures," Gronouski told reporters.

Gronouski, American Ambassador to Warsaw, completed Saturday a survey of conditions in four East European countries, Bulgaria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Romania. He now will return to Warsaw where he will write a report on the trip for President Johnson.

The former Wisconsin tax commissioner described his talks in Sofia "as one of the most interesting conversations of the whole trip," demonstrating the value of personal contact.

ing a $1.3 million urbanization project.

The project included building 125 homes, a drainage canal five miles long; leveling land, putting in paved streets, lights, water and landscaping the area. A secondary project of building housing for the low-income population was carried on at the same time.

In his job, he surveyed the city and worked with civil engineers in organizing plans and making cost calculations. At the same time he worked with the National Youth Council, organizing recreational classes in the schools.

He coached two athletic teams to represent the territory in the national games at Caracas.

"Spare Time"

"My track and field team took seventh place and the swim team fourth out of 20 teams, and only after a few months of training," he stated proudly.

In his "spare time" he assisted the doctors at the hospital with surgery, autopsies and fractures.

"I also became a qualified midwife," he added.

Looking back at the two years he spent as a volunteer, Jim feels it was all worth it "in spite of the hardships, the diseases, and the discomforts."

He is now looking forward to going back to school and plans to apply at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh this fall.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE FOR JUDICIAL, COUNTY SUPERVISOR AND REFERENDA ELECTIONS APRIL 5, 1966

STATE OF WISCONSIN
COUNTY OF OUTAGAMIE

SS

Office of County Clerk

To the Electors of Outagamie County:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election districts of Outagamie County, Wisconsin, on the 5th day of April A.D., 1966, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office, in the sample below:

Information to Voters

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters.

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking his ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

A voter may vote upon a question submitted to a vote of the people by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the answer which he intends to give.

If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is visually handicapped, he may have anyone assist him in marking his ballot or operating a voting machine. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

The following is a facsimile of the official ballot:

James Miller, Right, who spent two years as Peace Corps volunteer in Venezuela, assists a group of men who are clearing jungle vegetation in the school yard. Because of the high humidity in the Delta region where James was assigned, the vegetation grew rapidly and this was a never-ending job.

Peace Corpsman Returns

While the recent snow storm of the long hours we spent studying the dying Spanish, history, government and agriculture of Venezuela, it was a welcome change for an Appleton youth who had spent the last two years as a Peace Corps volunteer in the humid Delta and inadequate at first in a strange town.

James Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller, 1339 W. Packard St., who recently returned from South America, was assigned to a village of 450 people to help with community development.

The 23-year-old volunteer, a 1961 graduate of Appleton High School, entered Peace Corps training shortly after returning from a year of college at the University National Cuyo, Mendoza, Argentina.

He was first scheduled to spend the two years in the Andes Mountain region of Venezuela but at the last minute was reassigned to the Delta region.

Here he found that "in spite of weeks leveling off streets and waiting for the oil to pour on the streets to come but the monsoon rains came first, completely washing out our hard work," he said, but admitted that "frustration is one of the things you have to learn to cope with."

During the monsoons Jim began organizing recreation and physical education programs in the local schools which are still in operation. And after the rains, the ministry supplied cement blocks to build a wall around the cemetery and even the oil for the streets.

In describing his living conditions, Jim says they were "adequately bare."

Entertainment

At first he rented a two-room, three-wall mud hut with a lean-to for a cooking area and slept with a hammock with mosquito netting. Later he moved into the local clinic which was "comparatively modern."

For entertainment, he played dominos, read and now and then went on tiger and crocodile hunts.

In August, 1965, however, James was transferred to Tucupita, the territory capital, where he worked with the municipal government of the territory on planning and organizing
